Guam Rubble Searched for More Victims

AGANA, Guam (AP)—Recovery teams began sifting through what appeared to be a massive junkyard on Guam today and said they expect to find more victims in the rubble left by Typhoon Karen.

Karen, officially described as the worst disaster in the history of this strategic American outpost in the western Pacific, damaged or destroyed nearly every civilian building on the island. Winds up to 174 miles an hour blasted the island for four hours Sunday night.

So far, six Guamanians have been reported dead, at least 100 other natives and military men or dependents injured and damages estimated at more than $100 million.

Red Cross and civil defense offices have been set up to coordinate recovery. U.S. Dist. Judge Paul D. Shriver has been named as head of this effort.

Most of the wreckage is still unchecked.

"When we finally get to cleaning up the mess, we'll probably find more bodies," police officials said.

Acting Gov. Manuel Guerrero termed it a miracle that more did not die.

Most schools and businesses were closed. Male teachers were assigned to a security force to protect schools and property. Women teachers were ordered to work with the Red Cross and other recovery groups.

Temporary home repairs have begun, but most residents were still living in hospitals, churches and schools.

Water was in short supply and being distributed at emergency pumping stations across the 32-mile-long island.

Guerrero told his people that help was coming but urged them to "do what you can yourselves. We must help ourselves first."

In Tokyo, meanwhile, weather forecasters said Karen was expected to pass some 150 miles to the south and east of U.S. controlled Okinawa Thursday night, Japan time.

Trust Territory Commissioner M. W. Goding has provided housing on nearby Saipan for families, and women and children were being sent there, he said.

Dog License Hike Approved; Increase Scheduled Jan. 1

An increase in the price of dog licenses in Pickaway County will go into effect Jan. 1.

The Pickaway County Board of Commissioners approved the hike yesterday. The rate for a single dog will be raised from the current $2 to $3. The kennel rate will be from $10 to $15.

Pickaway County generally sells about 3,300 of the single dog tags. The kennel issue is considerably less.

The increase was voted on a reluctant note. Commissioners Clyde Michel and Lloyd Melvin registered hesitant affirmative votes after pointing out that more money must be accumulated in this fund to meet current expenses.

Chairman Charles Morris voted no. He said persons who willingly purchase the licenses each year should not be penalized. He said a greater effort should be made to collect from dog owners who habitually fail to buy tags.

Money derived from the tag sales is used to pay sheep claims and constitutes a percentage of the dog warden's salary and expenses.

In other business, the Commission was notified that the State Highway Department has turned down a request to reduce the legal speed limit on a section of the Circleville-Lockbourne Road No. 28 in Harrison Twp.

State highway officials said a study of the request disclosed that the section is not congested enough to warrant the reduction. The area involved starts at Harrisburg-Fairfield Road No. 20 and extends north for 1.16 miles.

The speed reduction, originally requested by the State Highway Patrol and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, was sought for safety reasons.

Highway spokesmen said the reduction may be necessary in the future, but not at present.

Money Hard To Give Away

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Charles Heitkemper found out it's not easy to give away money.

P. Booker Robinson, president of a Louisville bank, said Heitkemper, 33, a plumber's helper, walked into a branch of the bank Tuesday and tried to leave $1,900 for charity.

The branch manager refused to accept it. Heitkemper came back in the afternoon. This time the money was accepted, after Robinson had been consulted.

Police questioned Heitkemper, who convinced them the money was his savings.

Robinson said Heitkemper asked that the money be sent to Roman Catholic Bishop Fulton Sheen of New York for distribution "to poor kids."

Robinson said the money would be sent.

Kennedy, Adenauer Weigh Impact Of Cuban Crisis on Berlin Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met today to weigh the impact of the Cuban crisis on the East-West dispute over Berlin.

The problem before the President and the chancellor is tangled by the fact that the outcome of the Cuban crisis is not yet clear and the real effect of the Soviet withdrawal of missiles from Cuba on Premier Khrushchev's Berlin policies is not yet known.

When the present date for the Kennedy and Adenauer conference was set officials had hoped that the Cuban situation would be substantially cleared up. They conceded today that with Soviet jet bombers still in Cuba the final results of the U.S.-Soviet confrontation are uncertain.

Adenauer arrived Tuesday night by plane from Bonn.

U.S. and German diplomats said Kennedy and Adenauer would cover a wide range of issues of which continuing coordination of policy on Berlin is the most important.

Development of French-German relations, British membership in the European Common Market, the promotion of European political integration and the buildup of German armed forces within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are the chief topics — apart from Berlin — listed on the agenda worked out in advance of Adenauer's arrival.

Prior to leaving Bonn, Adenauer told newsmen that he was not opposed to "negotiations in principle" with the Soviet Union on Berlin provided that the Russians give some evidence of good faith in their dealings with the West.

Kennedy administration leaders have been studying the possibility that the Soviet withdrawal of nuclear weapons from Cuba opened the way for new Western initiatives on Berlin.

Their study, however, was started on the belief that Khrushchev would remove more than two dozen jet bombers known to be in Cuba as well as the 42 missiles which the U.S. Navy checked out aboard Soviet ships last week.

The Russians have stalled on withdrawal of the bombers and the activities of First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan in discussions with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana remain a mystery here, U.S. officials had assumed that he would see that Castro lives up to Khrushchev's commitment to Kennedy to remove all offensive weapons from the island.

Additional participating musical units will be the Teays Valley High School Band, the Jackson High School Band and the Laurelville High School Band.

The parade will form on S. Pickaway St. between Main and Franklin. The route of march will be E. Franklin to Court, north on Court to Main, west on Main to Scioto, north on Scioto to Pinckney, east on Pinckney to Court, south on Court to Main and then east on Main.

FOLLOWING the parade Santa will proceed to his headquarters at the old Miller & Jones store on W. Main. He will be there until 4 p. m. and from 6 to 8 p. m. Jaycees chairmen for the special Christmas program are John Fissell, Laurence Priest and Robert Ransom.

Detachment Vote Causes Town Uproar

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The village of Ft. Shawnee near Lima was in an uproar today over a detachment election—but it's no new development. The same situation has existed before.

Seems a 21.89-acre section of the village with 4,108 population wants to revert to Shawnee Township government instead of village government. That section has most of the high property tax values.

The village was incorporated two years ago. Since then the area voted once to detach itself, and again, a vote failed for the same purpose. The area balloted again Tuesday and the vote was 222 for detachment to 106 against. There are 950 people living in the area.

With the wealthy area now detached, the village of Ft. Shawnee finds itself in trouble. Until the vote the village had property tax valuations amounting to $9,778,493. Of that amount, more than half is property in the area detached, now reverting to township government.

Principal complaint of the people in the detached area is that belonging to the village government increases their taxes, and that promised water improvements have not been carried out.

270 Parking Tickets Cost 7 1/2-Year Jail Term

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sebastian Barone, 39, of Merchantville, N.J., accused of ignoring 270 parking tickets in two years, has been sentenced to 10 days in jail for each one. It adds up to 7 1/2 years.

Magistrate Joseph Hersch sentenced Barone Tuesday after Barone indicated he would not pay the fine of $3,309. His lawyer said he would appeal the sentence—the longest ever imposed in traffic court.

Farm Bureau Eyes Policy Including State Income Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The several hundred delegates to the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 1962 convention decide today the policy of their organization for 1963.

Voting was scheduled on a slate of some 250 proposed resolutions drawn up prior to the convention by a policy development committee from thousands of suggestions.

One of the proposals advocates a state income tax. This and others came in for sometimes-heated discussion at an open hearing attended by about 500 Tuesday night.

Gitmo Bay Refugees Get U.S. Warning

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—Anti-Castro refugees were warned at a mass meeting Tuesday night that any who are caught attempting to escape abroad from this U.S. naval base will be expelled from the base and returned to Cuba.

The warning followed by two days the arrest of 14 refugees who were trying to stow away on a merchant ship bound for the United States. All 14 are now in the Navy brig here. They have refused to eat or work.

There are about 440 Cuban refugees here. About 200 of them class themselves as violent opponents of Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Formerly there were about 560 refugees at the base, but about 100 managed to escape.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said the warning was delivered at a meeting by a U.S. naval intelligence officer.

Some of the refugees boycotted the meeting. They had found out in advance what it was about and refused to attend.

One Cuban source said some of the refugees were planning to test whether the United States actually would send them back to Cuba—and possible death.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, commander of the base, refused to comment on the warning. Policy respecting the refugees is determined by the U.S. State Department.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The FBI in Cincinnati says a secret picture of John Kinchloe DeJarnette has touched off a search for him and a girl companion for questioning in a major Cincinnati bank robbery.

E. D. Mason, agent-in-charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, said Tuesday charges were filed against DeJarnette, 41, and Doris Lee Nelson, 23, both of Louisville, Ky., in the Oct. 22 robbery of the O'Bryonville branch of Cincinnati Provident bank. The robber escaped with $37,232.

Mason said a hidden camera photograph of a man involved in the Sept. 26 holdup of Louisville's Liberty Bank and Trust Co. led investigators to DeJarnette. The Louisville robbery involved loot of $23,773.

commissioner, told delegates that Ohio must turn eventually to new sources of revenue.

"Ohio must have a tax structure that will spread the burden of government to those who have the best ability to pay," Bowers said. He called for a series of studies which would cover a period of several years and investigate all aspects of taxation in Ohio.

Resolutions adopted will determine federation stands on issues its spokesmen will put before Congress, the state legislature, government agencies and the National Farm Bureau Federation.

Nine Ohio Farm Bureau Federation trustees were elected today, including two new ones. Re-elected were Sumner R. Palmer, Napoleon; Robert Sumner, Tiffin; L. F. Warington, Sidney; John H. Weir, Carrollton; Lewis J. Hay, Lockbourne; Frank Solars, Washington Court House, and Mrs. W. A. Smith, Hillsboro. Elected for the first time were Chester L. Patterson, Lima, and Russell K. Webb, Peebles.

The federation's state youth committee was selected Tuesday, with four holdovers and four newcomers.

Re-elected were Chairman James Peterson of Chesterland, Vice Chairman Jack Walter of Dover, Findlay and Roger Helberg of Napoleon. Newly elected were Mike Bingham of Lancaster, James Herral of Circleville, Bill Kennel of Trenton and Jeanne Woolf of Springfield.

Helberg will represent the Farm Bureau on the Ohio Youth Traffic Safety Committee. Miss Basinger and Herral will serve on the Junior Fair Board, which plans youth activities at the Ohio State Fair.

Adlai Asks Barry Avoid 'Distortions'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson has asked Sen. Barry Goldwater not to "distort my utterances" again.

The Republican senator from Arizona in a speech Monday night called for President Kennedy to fire Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, and three other officials—Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., special presidential adviser; Chester A. Bowles, presidential adviser on African, Asian and Latin-American affairs, and Richard N. Goodwin, deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

Goldwater accused the four of being "soft on communism and soft on Cuba." He cited a statement by Stevenson in a speech on disarmament in which he said the United States was prepared to take risks to reduce the arms race.

"You have carefully neglected to quote the rest of the paragraph," Stevenson told Goldwater in a letter Tuesday. "I would be obliged if you would not again distort my utterances by quoting them out of context."

Stevenson told Goldwater it was one of his responsibilities as a senator "to be accurate and responsible in your public statements" and added: "I trust you will keep that in mind if you have occasion to refer to any speech of mine again."

Ike Proposes Tax Overhaul

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says present income tax rates are a drag on the economy and require an overhaul "to provide a wider purchasing power for all the people."

Eisenhower told the Economic Club of New York Tuesday night that, as a matter of fiscal prudence, any substantial lowering of taxes should be accompanied by commitments to hold constant or reduce federal spending in the next two years.

The former president shared the rostrum with Lucius D. Clay, former U.S. military governor of Germany, who said this country's arms quarantine of Cuba was effective while sparing the Cuban people from any further privations.

In his talk, Eisenhower called the economy "fundamentally strong, needing only a reasonable encouragement by government and a renewed confidence in the future to resume its dynamic progress."

The present tax structure, he said, "was substantially devised in the depression and shaped further in war" and "is not suited to the 1960s." He said it "stifles incentives, impedes investments and has weakened our economically at a time when we should be gaining strength."

Eisenhower said he believes any tax modification "should improve the ability of industry to modernize and keep modern plants, machinery and techniques."

Furthermore, he said, the nation should seek to preserve economic freedom by ending what he termed "the drift of power toward Washington" and "the encroachment of executive power at the expense of the legislature."

Clay told the group that the quarantine imposed by this country on Cuba was able to accomplish the basic purpose of acting against the missile buildup. A full blockade, he said, would have "cut off the essentials of life to the Cuban people and would have been almost as cruel as the (Soviet) blockade of Berlin in 1948."

3 Bank Robbers Given Sentences

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Three confessed Toledo bank robbers were sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday, one to a life term. The trio pleaded guilty to robbing the East Toledo Branch of the National Bank of Toledo of $12,264 on July 10.

Sentenced to life imprisonment was Robert Mooneyham, 26. Mooneyham has a long criminal record and was on parole when the robbery occurred.

Charles Shatto, 38, driver of the getaway car, and Ronald Raleigh Browning, 20, each received 20-year sentence in an appearance before Common Pleas Judge Geraldine Mac Elwane.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Montgomery City Commissioner L. B. Sullivan gave the invocation.

Mayor Earl James said Tuesday's session was the first time to his knowledge the commission had met and adjourned because it had no business to transact.

Daytonian Refuses Talk To Grand Jury

Silence To Be Kept Until after Main Witness Testifies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gilbert Bilenkin, president of a Dayton liquor firm and a key figure in a grand jury probe of the state liquor department, took the Fifth Amendment today when called to testify before the grand jury.

Bilenkin, head of Famous Brands, Inc., Dayton, has been mentioned prominently in allegations that liquor distillers were forced to make payoffs to have their brands carried in Ohio's monopoly liquor stores.

His attorney, Milton L. Farber, said he advised Bilenkin not to testify, at least not before the appearance of Joseph Makler, head of a Chicago distillery whose charges touched off the investigation. Makler, president of Waterfall and Fraziers Distillers, is scheduled to testify Nov. 26.

Court officials indicated Bilenkin may be called again after Makler's appearance.

Farber defended his client's decision not to take the stand and asserted: "In this country, the defendant testifies last. I will not permit Bilenkin to testify until Makler testifies and I have some idea what he says."

Bilenkin has been quoted as saying he will prove the charges against him are fabrications. He has been accused of being the recipient of the alleged influence money.

Makler has been quoted as saying he had to pay Ohio interests in order to be allowed to sell liquor to the state liquor monopoly.

Both Bilenkin and Makler have been elusive figures in the investigation which broke in late summer and added to the color of the recent Ohio gubernatorial election in which Republican James Rhodes defeated the incumbent, Democrat Michael DiSalle.

Court officials had been unable, until this week, to find either of the men to get them to appear before the jury. Finally, a court granted Makler "immunity" and his appearance was scheduled.

Special counsel Adrain B. Fink Jr. said Bilenkin had promised to bring records of dealing in question. Fink said Bilenkin would be questioned at length.

Bilenkin showed up in his home city of Dayton a considerable time after the probe began.

Kirkersville Bank Holdup Suspect Held

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—FBI agents arrested Richard Lee Bostic, 27, in a North High Street bar early today on a charge he was one of two men who robbed the Kirkersville office of the Park National Bank of Newark of $11,693 April 26, 1961.

Action of the federal agents came after a federal grand jury in Columbus returned secret indictments charging Bostic and Truman Herman Webb, 34, of Brownsville, Ky., formerly of Columbus. Webb already is in federal custody on charges he transported a stolen car across state lines and that he jumped bail.

Bostic, of Columbus, was released from Ohio Penitentiary last Thursday. At that time the Franklin County Common Pleas Court suspended execution of a 120-year sentence pending an appeal before the U.S. Supreme Court.

He had been admitted to the penitentiary Nov. 1 on charges of burglary and forcing entry into a depository box at the Hammon Food Co. here.

In the Kirkersville robbery, two gunmen wearing white coveralls and with nylon stockings pulled over their heads entered the bank and forced George A. Shank, a vice president, to open combination locks on two inner compartments of the already open vault. They fled in a car.

Feed Grain Rules Told

Ag Agency Seeks To Trim Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today provisions of the government's 1963 feed grain program designed to make a further reduction in surpluses of these grains.

Under the program, farmers who voluntarily reduce plantings will be eligible for price supports and payments on the idled acres. Others will get no government aid.

The 1963 support rates will be the same as under this year's program, except those for sorghum rates include: corn $1.20 a bushel, grains which will be down 2 cents per hundredweight. The support grain $1.91 per hundredweight, oats 62 cents a bushel and rye $1.02 a bushel.

Unlike this year's program, a part of the support for corn, barley and sorghum grain will be offered in the form of crop storage loans and a part in direct payments. In the case of oats and rye, the full support will be offered in the form of loans.

The addition of direct payments is new. Support rates heretofore have been offered in the form of loans.

The loan and payment rates, respectively, include: corn $1.02 a bushel loan and 18 cents a bushel payment; barley 79 cents and 14 cents, and sorghum grain $1.62 and 29 cents.

Participating farmers must divert at least 20 per cent of their maximum that may be diverted is 40 per cent or 25 acres which ever is larger.

Cincy Drug Firm Sued by Physician

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A heart specialist has filed a federal court suit charging a Cincinnati pharmaceutical firm with offering to the public a drug that had not been properly tested.

Dr. Burt Friedman, 53, asked a $100,000 judgment Tuesday against the William S. Merrell Co.

The physician claimed that he prescribed the drug Mer-29 for himself after reading, "glowing reports" put out by Merrell that it would reduce blood cholesterol.

Friedman said he began using Mer-29 in March 1960, and shortly thereafter noticed a discoloring of his skin and loss of hair. Later, the physician said, he developed cataracts of both eyes which will require surgery.

Seems a 21.89-acre section of the village with 4,108 population wants to revert to Shawnee Township government instead of village government. That section has most of the high property tax values.

The village was incorporated two years ago. Since then the area voted once to detach itself, and again, a vote failed for the same purpose. The area balloted again Tuesday and the vote was 222 for detachment to 106 against. There are 950 people living in the area.

With the wealthy area now detached, the village of Ft. Shawnee finds itself in trouble. "Until the vote the village had property tax valuations amounting to $9,778,493. Of that amount, more than half is property in the area detached, now reverting to township government.

Principal complaint of the people in the detached area is that belonging to the village government increases their taxes, and that promised water improvements have not been carried out.

270 Parking Tickets Cost 7 1/2-Year Jail Term

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sebastian Barone, 39, of Merchantville, N.J., accused of ignoring 270 parking tickets in two years, has been sentenced to 10 days in jail for each one. It adds up to 7 1/2 years.

Magistrate Joseph Hersch sentenced Barone Tuesday after Barone indicated he would not pay the fine of $3,309. His lawyer said he would appeal the sentence—longest ever imposed in traffic court.

Farm Bureau Eyes Policy Including State Income Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The several hundred delegates to the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 1962 convention decide today the policy of their organization for 1963.

Voting was scheduled on a slate of some 250 proposed resolutions drawn up prior to the convention by a policy development committee from thousands of suggestions.

One of the proposals advocates a state income tax. This and others came in for sometimes-heated discussion at an open hearing attended by about 500 Tuesday night.

Gitmo Bay Refugees Get U.S. Warning

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—Anti-Castro refugees were warned at a mass meeting Tuesday night that any who are caught attempting to escape abroad from this U.S. naval base will be expelled from the base and returned to Cuba.

The warning followed by two days the arrest of 14 refugees who were trying to stow away on a merchant ship bound for the United States. All 14 are now in the Navy brig here. They have refused to eat or work.

There are about 440 Cuban refugees here. About 200 of them class themselves as violent opponents of Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Formerly there were about 560 refugees at the base, but about 100 managed to escape.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said the warning was delivered at a meeting by a U.S. naval intelligence officer.

Some of the refugees boycotted the meeting. They had found out in advance what it was about and refused to attend.

One Cuban source said some of the refugees were planning to test whether the United States actually would send them back to Cuba — and possible death.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, commander of the base, refused to comment on the warning. Policy respecting the refugees is determined by the U.S. State Department.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The FBI in Cincinnati says a secret picture of John Kinchloe DeJarnette has touched off a search for him and a girl companion for questioning in a major Cincinnati bank robbery.

E. D. Mason, agent-in-charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, said Tuesday charges were filed against DeJarnette, 41, and Doris Lee Nelson, 30, both of Louisville, Ky., in the Oct. 26 robbery of the O'Bryonville branch of Cincinnati Provident bank. The robber escaped with $37,232.

Mason said a hidden camera photograph of a man involved in the Sept. 26 holdup of Louisville's Liberty Bank and Trust Co. led investigators to DeJarnette. The Louisville robbery involved loot of $23,773.

Ike Proposes Tax Overhaul

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says present income tax rates are a drag on the economy and require an overhaul "to provide a wider purchasing power for all the people."

Eisenhower told the Economic Club of New York Tuesday night that, as a matter of fiscal prudence, any substantial lowering of taxes should be accompanied by commitments to hold constant or reduce federal spending in the next two years.

The former president shared the rostrum with Lucius D. Clay, former U.S. military governor of Germany, who said this country's arms quarantine of Cuba was effective while sparing the Cuban people from any further privations.

In his talk, Eisenhower called the economy "fundamentally strong, needing only a reasonable encouragement by government and a renewed confidence in the future to resume its dynamic progress."

The present tax structure, he said, "was substantially devised in the depression and shaped further in war" and "is not suited to the 1960s." He said it "stifles incentives, impedes investments and has weakened our economic ability at a time when we should be gaining strength."

Eisenhower said he believes any tax modification "should improve the ability of industry to modernize and keep modern plants, machinery and techniques."

Furthermore, he said, the nation should seek to preserve economic freedom by ending what he termed "the drift of power toward Washington" and "the encroachment of executive power at the expense of the legislative."

Clay told the group that the quarantine imposed by this country on Cuba was able to accomplish the basic purpose of acting against the missile buildup. A full blockade, he said, would have "cut off the essentials of life to the Cuban people and would have been almost as cruel as the (Soviet) blockade of Berlin in 1948."

3 Bank Robbers Given Sentences

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three confessed Toledo bank robbers were sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday, one to a life term. The trio pleaded guilty to robbing the East Toledo Branch of the National Bank of Toledo of $12,264 on July 10.

Sentenced to life imprisonment was Robert Mooneyham, 26. Mooneyham has a long criminal record and was on parole when the robbery occurred.

Charles Shatto, 38, driver of the getaway car, and Ronald Raleigh Browning, 20, each received 20-year sentence in an appearance before Common Pleas Judge Geraldine Mac Elwane.

Invocation Is Only Business on Agenda

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Montgomery City Commissioner L. B. Sullivan gave the invocation.

The city clerk said, "Gentlemen there is no reason to sit down" and the commission meeting ended.

Mayor Earl James said Tuesday's session was the first time to his knowledge the commission had met and adjourned because it had no business to transact.

Daytonian Refuses Talk To Grand Jury

Silence To Be Kept Until after Main Witness Testifies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gilbert Bilenkin, president of a Dayton liquor firm and a key figure in a grand jury probe of the state liquor department, took the Fifth Amendment today when called to testify before the grand jury.

Bilenkin, head of Famous Brands, Inc., Dayton, has been mentioned prominently in allegations that liquor distillers were forced to make payoffs to have their brands carried in Ohio's monopoly liquor stores.

His attorney, Milton L. Farber, said he advised Bilenkin not to testify, at least not before the appearance of Joseph Makler, head of a Chicago distillery whose charges touched off the investigation. Makler, president of Waterfill and Fraziers Distillers, is scheduled to testify Nov. 26.

Court officials indicated Bilenkin may be called again after Makler's appearance. Farber defended his client's decision not to take the stand and asserted: "In this country, the defendant testifies last. I will not permit Bilenkin to testify until Makler testifies and I have some idea what he says."

Bilenkin has been quoted as saying he will prove the charges against him are fabrications. He has been accused of being the recipient of the alleged influence money.

Makler has been quoted as saying he had to pay Ohio interests in order to be allowed to sell liquor to the state liquor monopoly. Both Bilenkin and Makler have been elusive figures in the investigation which broke in late summer and added to the color of the recent Ohio gubernatorial election in which Republican James Rhodes defeated the incumbent, Democrat Michael DiSalle.

Court officials had been unable, until this week, to find either of the men to get them to appear before the jury. Finally, a court granted Makler "immunity" and his appearance was scheduled.

Special counsel Adrain B. Fink Jr. said Bilenkin had promised to bring records of dealing in question. Fink said Bilenkin would be questioned at length.

Bilenkin showed up in his home city of Dayton a considerable time after the probe began.

Kirkersville Bank Holdup Suspect Held

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — FBI agents arrested Richard Lee Bostic, 27, in a North High Street bar early today on a charge he was one of two men who robbed the Kirkersville office of the Park National Bank of Newark of $11,693 April 26, 1961.

Action of the federal agents came after a federal grand jury in Columbus returned secret indictments charging Bostic and Truman Herman Webb, 34, of Brownsville, Ky., formerly of Columbus. Webb already is in federal custody on charges he transported a stolen car across state lines and that he jumped bail.

Bostic, of Columbus, was released from Ohio Penitentiary last Thursday. At that time the Franklin County Common Pleas Court suspended execution of a 120-year sentence pending an appeal before the U. S. Supreme Court.

He had been admitted to the penitentiary Nov. 1 on charges of burglary and forcing entry into a depository box at the Hammon Food Co. here.

In the Kirkersville robbery, two gunmen wearing white coveralls and with nylon stockings pulled over their heads entered the bank and forced George A. Shank, a vice president, to open combination locks on two inner compartments of the already open vault. They fled in a car.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Because a 3-mill operating levy and a $1.2 million bond issue were defeated at the polls, the Austin-Town Twp. Board of Education will close its kindergarten classes Dec. 19 to 700 children.

U.N. Delegates Believe Soviets Bargaining with New Demands

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Some U.N. delegates assessed today new Soviet-Cuban demands, reported to include U.S. withdrawal from the base at Guantanamo, as a bargaining maneuver in negotiations to end the Cuban crisis.

"It is just another move in the chess game," said one diplomat. "Now the Russians will wait for the United States to make a move."

The United States was certain to reject the package presented to U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant Tuesday by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson met for 3 1/2 hours Tuesday night with Kuznetsov and said the talk was "constructive." He said it "served to identify and clarify the positions of both countries on the unresolved issues."

Kuznetsov presumably presented the new Soviet-Cuban proposal to Stevenson. The American delegate was believed to have countered with the main U.S. demands—that the Soviet Union withdraw its IL-28 jet bombers from Cuba and permit adequate verification that Soviet missile sites have been dismantled and all rockets and other offensive weapons sent back to the Soviet Union.

The new Soviet-Cuban proposal was reported based on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's five-point demand made on Oct. 28 for an end to all U.S. activities against his regime and U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo. The five points apparently were worked over by Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who has been in Havana since Nov. 2.

Informants said the Soviet-Cuban proposal dealt mainly with U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo and included an end to the U.S. naval blockade of arms shipments and measures by the United States to prevent hostile activity against Cuba by exiles.

It also was said to call for firm guarantees that the United States will not invade Cuba.

President Kennedy made a no-invasion pledge contingent on the Soviet Union living up to Premier Khrushchev's promise to pull out all missiles and other offensive weapons under adequate verification.

The President has stressed that he considers the jet bombers offensive weapons.

Th Soviet Union has balked at removing the jets, contending that they were turned over to Castro and are under his control.

Hitchhiker Hinted Slayer Of Ohioan, 22

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Young David E. Mason of Newark frequently picked up hitchhikers, his family and friends say, and police believe he is dead because he picked up one too many.

The body of Mason, 22, shot at least eight times and his pockets empty, was found just west of here on a narrow, cinder rural lane Tuesday.

A search continued through the night for the car Mason had driven to Alton, Ill., for a week-end visit with a friend.

But by early today neither the car nor any suspect had been found.

The car belongs to Mason's father, Elbert J. Mason of Newark, who had the heavy-hearted task of positively identifying David's body Tuesday. The car, a black 1962 Studebaker, bore Ohio license V-3482.

The victim was an assistant in the Newark City Engineering Department. He once served on the Newark police force.

Actor's Condition Serious were remote following word from Geneva that the International Red Cross Committee had decided not to take part in inspection of Cuban-bound ships under present conditions.

The United States has indicated it will continue the quarantine until the bombers are out and will keep Cuba under air surveillance as long as it feels that necessary to safeguard against re-establishment of offensive weapons there.

New Light Slated at Parking Lot

A new mercury-vapor type light is scheduled to be installed at the parking lot between W. Franklin and W. Main St.

The action was taken during a meeting of the Circleville Parking Lot Corporation at Tink's. Spokesmen for the group said the automatic type facility will provide a better distribution of light.

The mercury-vapor light comes on automatically at dusk and turns off at dawn.

Corporation members were informed that work on the group's newly purchased lot on Pinckney St. is progressing on schedule. Smaller buildings have been removed and gravel has been spread.

THE AREA cleared so far will be used as car parking rental spaces on a temporary basis. This procedure will be followed until the house there is removed and the parking lot is completed.

Work also has started at the area next to the lot between Franklin and Main Sts., purchased by the corporation as an expansion of the present parking area.

Spokesmen said work on both new lots will continue as funds become available. The organization's aim to provide more parking space in an effort to overcome a deficit of facilities in the city.

4 Clermont Plan Aides Quit Panel

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Four of the eight appointed members of Clermont County's planning commission have resigned.

The four, who resigned Tuesday, are Chairman William R. Frye, retired businessman; Vice Chairman Joseph Urban, farmer; Vancel Keeler, retired contractor, and E. Ralph House, retired electrical contractor.

The resignations grew out of a letter last week to the commission, made public by the writer, James E. Miller, another commission member, who contended the commission was worthless, ridiculous and "the laughing stock of the county." Miller did not resign, however.

Frye, who had been with the commission since it was organized in 1957, said the members had worked hard and carefully to make their decisions and deserved support instead of abuse.

The commission, whose members serve without pay, was set up five years ago after the county found itself flooded with new subdivisions that created major headaches for county officials.

Cadet Teachers Number 25 In Circleville, Pickaway County

Twenty-five teachers in Circleville and Pickaway County schools are presently teaching under the cadet training program that the Ohio Board of Education plans to cancel out by 1968.

The state board voted during Monday's session to stop certifying elementary school teachers with only two years of college training.

The state educators set 1968 as the date to refuse certificates to these people.

The so-called cadet program grants certificates to teachers with two years of training with the understanding they will complete their education in the future.

GEORGE McDowell, county superintendent of schools, said today that 17 teachers in county schools are currently teaching under this program. Fritz Jacobs, city superintendent, listed only eight teachers certified under this program in city schools.

The program will not register students after 1966 and will stop issuing certificates on Oct. 1, 1968. State board members feel that the gradual process of eliminating the program will not cause any great teacher shortage.

Tax Relief Plan Is in Jeopardy

$7.8 Billion Federal Deficit Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials are forecasting a federal budget deficit this year of $7.8 billion. This could be big enough, perhaps, to imperil President Kennedy's plans for a 1963 tax cut.

Sen. William Proxmire D-Wis., was one of the first Congress members to comment today on the official deficit estimate announced Tuesday by the Budget Bureau.

"Under the circumstances," he said, "it would be a serious mistake to give the President the tax cut which he indicated last summer he will ask when Congress resumes."

It may have been no accident that, just prior to the deficit announcement, it was reported that the administration was giving thought to a gradual tax reduction that would take effect in several steps over a period of one to two years. Such a plan would soften the immediate impact of lower taxes.

The Budget Bureau said several factors were responsible for dashing its dream of keeping out of the red in the current fiscal year that began July 1. It said:

The economy, by falling far short of earlier expectations, is cutting deeply into forecast revenues. Federal income now is expected to total $85.9 billion—down $7.1 billion from the estimate Kennedy provided when he sent the budget to Congress last January and predicted a $500 million surplus.

The administration's 1962 tax bill and the Treasury's July liberalization of tax depreciation, both aimed at spurring business modernization, will account for $2 billion of the revenue loss.

The red ink total in the last fiscal year was $6.3 billion. A deficit of $7.8 billion would be the second highest in peacetime, topped only by the $12.4 billion chalked up in 1959.

Rubber Check Artist Trapped by Own Camera

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A would-be photographer bought an instant-developing-type camera at a suburban shopping center but paid for it with a bad check.

It turned out to be easy for sheriff's detectives to find the culprit and arrest him at his home.

While the camera store clerk was demonstrating the camera, he took a picture of the customer, who was wearing a lettered jacket.

Federal Education Aid Is Debated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The issue of federal aid to education was the hottest topic at the joint convention of the Ohio School Boards Association, Ohio Association of School Administrators and Ohio Association of School Business Officials got into swing Tuesday.

The keynote speaker, Dr. Ernest Melby of Michigan State University, came out strongly in favor of bolstering education with federal funds.

In one of the sessions, State Sen. Oliver Ocashek, D - Summit, and Parma School Supt. Paul W. Briggs argued for federal aid. U. S. Rep. Charles A. Mosher, Republican from Oberlin, and Columbus School Supt. Harold Eibling argued against it.

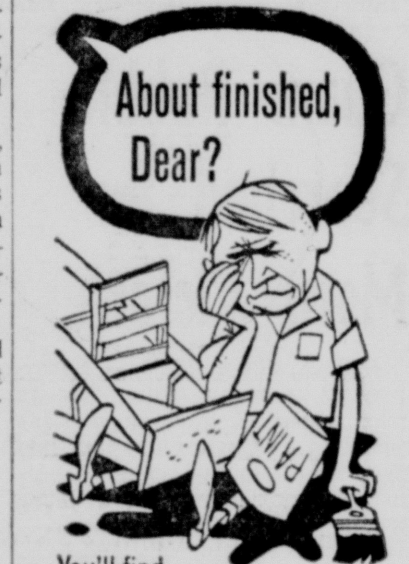

Melby contended, "The federal government has the fairest tax structure in terms of ability to pay. It has the taxes that are the easiest to collect and hardest to avoid. In contrast, localities depend heavily on property taxes which fall on people without regard to ability to pay and are a heavy drag on small business."

Melby, a professor of education, said of fears that federal aid means federal control that "the fact is we had far more trouble with control coming from state support than from federal support."

Ocashek pointed to federal funds for unemployment, aid to dependent children and the like, remarking: "We say 'yes' to federal aid to some 27 departments in Ohio, yet 'no' to additional funds for education."

Mosher, on the other hand, said Ohio must come up with a fundamental remodeling of its own basic tax structure. When states abdicate their responsibility, he said, it drifts to Washington and stays there with increasing concentration.

Eibling and Mosher both said federal aid certainly would result

'Everything Here Is a Symbol'

NEW YORK (AP)—"Everything here is a symbol. If you ask a successful American who he is, he immediately wants to show you his motor car."

The speaker of the lines is Shirley Anne Field, who is known as one of Britain's angry young ladies and also as "the pin-up girl the English intelligentsia."

Miss Field, a film star, is 24, beautiful, red-haired and green-eyed. She appears more cheerfully outspoken than angry, however, and he said is one reason she is flip with the lip is that she's half-Irish.

"There is so much contrast in this country," she observed. "You meet here either people who are unbelievably talented—or people who seem to have no place at all."

"I'm a cold weather girl and like fresh air. But in New York you can't open a window. They're all painted together," she said.

"When I tried to open the window in my hotel, the maid told me, the air-conditioning in this room cost $10,000—and you have to use it."

Attacking a $6 steak with gleeful relish, Shirley said that despite the fact so many things in America were a symbolic price tag she was having a high old time visiting here.

"Actually, I live in a world of symbols myself rather than of reality," she confessed. "I always feel like I'm on the threshold of maturity, but never quite through. You get very confused when you are young and in this business."

Shirley feels a close kinship to the late Marilyn Monroe. A war waif reared in an orphanage, she went to work as a secretary at 15, saved her shillings to take drama lessons. She was a model and a television performer before winning movie recognition.

As did Marilyn Monroe, she aspires to glamor, but she resents the thought that to a studio an actress is "just a mobile, animated piece of property."

"I picked show business because it forces a kind of discipline upon one. But to be yourself takes a lot of courage. In the final analysis, you're alone in what you try to do in life," she said.

"And you get lost if you're not yourself. If you don't know who you are, who does?"

"But all I can do is act—and cook. Sometimes I feel happy only when I'm working. You need a complete dedication to self. But I have fears, and when I'm acting someone else—well, those fears go

"TWENTY-THREE DOLLARS!! Thank heavens you don't have a birthday every year!"

By George Sokolsky

The World Will Miss Her

It will be a different world without Eleanor Roosevelt. She was, in her heart, a humanitarian, and even when one disagreed with her about her politics, it was possible to realize what this world achieved for those elements in our population who turned to her for leadership.

Imagine a young girl, coming from what in those days was called "high society" to Rivington Street, on the lower East Side of New York to work in a Settlement House! When, later in life, she said that she had not known that such conditions existed, it can only be said that outside of the Jewish ghetto and the Italian ghetto and Chinatown and the Five Points, few knew that such conditions could exist in New York although we had heard of the poverty in Chicago against which Jane Addams battled.

Eleanor Roosevelt thus came to know the sweat shop, the home industries of women and small children sewing buttons on pants, making paper flowers, earning a penny here and there; falling asleep at the table, falling off a bench, many children crowded into one room. What such sights did to a sensitive person who came out of a genteel home that had long known wealth and leisure and culture!

Eleanor Roosevelt then went to work with Florence Kelley of the Women's Trade Union League which was battling for equal pay for equal work, for protection to pregnant women who had to work under horrible conditions for a livelihood. These conditions do not exist anywhere today, but they did exist in her boyhood and when Eleanor Roosevelt came into this environment.

Suddenly, this shy woman from uptown discovered life at its rawest. She could have run away from it. She chose not to. She devoted herself to rectifying the faults which appeared in our society. There can be no question that Eleanor Roosevelt sometimes went too far and sometimes was used. Also, sometimes, in her writings, there was less homework than one expected, but what with Mrs. Roosevelt's travels and her many organizational activities, it was surprising that she had enough time to do any studious writing.

Although Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt were long married and had several children it is obvious that each lived separate lives. The President became a politician, but Mrs. Roosevelt was more interested in social welfare. She started her public career as a social worker and remained a social worker.

She never returned to the genteel society whence she came but associated with the lower classes with workers, Negroes, minorities of all kinds. Her motivation was clearly to overcome those difficulties which established classes in what should be a classless society.

What will be Eleanor Roosevelt's permanent contribution to American life? Probably her most telling contribution will be the stimulation of sensitivity among the Negroes. Her activities among Negroes, particularly when she was in the White House, stimulated the movement for desegregation. Mrs. Roosevelt was worshipped by the Negroes of the world and her loss will be particularly felt in the Negro ghettos of the Northern cities of this country.

Not an original thinker, Mrs. Roosevelt was a catalyst who brought elements together which otherwise would have been far apart from each other. Disliked by many of her own class in American society, ridiculed for many of her activities, abused for the errors of her husband and her children, she went through the world a rather lonely woman, always restlessly fighting for causes. As one said years ago, "Doesn't she ever get tired?"

Eleanor Roosevelt came from the Theodore Roosevelt side of the family. She possessed many of the qualities of Theodore who fought through life to the bitter end. Theodore's children are much of the same type — battlers for causes. Mrs. Longworth's pithy humor keeps her cheerful in her late years; she is great fun. Theodore Jr. fought bravely for his party. I remember Kermit and Theodore coming through China on anthropological expeditions. Archie battles away for conservative causes. There was fighting blood in that side of the Roosevelt family.

I have been one of those who was often critical of Eleanor Roosevelt, but how can one forget that here was a person who touched life on all sides and whose only purpose in life was to undo the wrongs of Rivington Street wherever they existed in this world and for whatever people.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

To the Editor:

I am almost eighteen years of age, a senior at Circleville High School and I am very much disappointed with the result of the Nov. 6 voting on the Berger Hospital levy.

I realize that the matter is now decided, but I would like to express my opinion about the issue.

In observing the precinct report of each area within Pickaway County, I noticed the city of Circleville passed the levy for improvement, but the other county residents, especially those people nearer county lines, opposed this proposal of improvement and voted it down.

I can naturally understand why the townspeople favored and welcomed the improvement, but I cannot agree or understand why the other people should vote no!

They feel that Columbus is just as close with superb facilities and modern accommodations and there is no need for the expense of a new hospital wing here in Pickaway County. I disagree! Is the advantage actually that great? Berger Hospital has many advantages, too: friendliness, interest in the patient as a person — not as a number, capable staff members and fairly modern facilities.

When a levy such as this fails I feel that the decision against the levy is refusal to improvement and progress. And I, as a young adult, think of that action as a slap in the face! We want improvement and when someone says "no", we can't voice our opinion because we aren't of voting age. It isn't fair to us!

If the levy comes up again for a vote, I certainly hope it passes. If Pickaway County is to prosper and grow with population composed of us young people, a new, modern hospital is essential. I, for one, will not live in an area that refuses progress!

So, voters, in my appeal to your sense of good judgment, I urge you vote "yes" if the Berger Hospital levy comes up again for a vote!

CHERYL MUMAW

To the Editor:

My sincere thanks to the voters of Pickaway County. Any issue that calls for an increase in taxes is controversial.

The Hospital Levy did call for an increase in taxes and this time it was defeated. But it only failed by 235 votes.

I was amazed and deeply gratified at the tremendous support it did get. All of us interested in the hospital will continue to think, plan and work. The need for expansion existed before the election and still exists. If only we could vote down the need as easily as the levy!

Despite letters, rumors and talk prior to the election, we doctors of Pickaway County are interested in our patients. We want the best for them.

In our desire to serve you to the best of our ability and with the best equipment, we perhaps become over zealous, yes, even belligerent in our attempt to show you the need for hospital expansion. It is wrong for your doctor to feel so positively about your health?

Most people do not like to think about wars, fires, accidents and death. We also try hard not to think of the hospital — any hospital. Unfortunately, most of us will need it at some time.

The need for hospitals — services and beds — increases each year. Many of us dream and idealize the old country doctor sitting beside the sick bed for hours, even days. Realistically, we know that patience is a poor substitute for medicine. We would not go back to that poor weary man any more than we would trade our cars for the horse and buggy, electric lights for the kerosene lamp, or any of the other obvious examples that could be given. Is it wrong to want the hospital to keep pace with the rest of civilization?

Many people were associated with this program but none as closely as Russell Palm and Emmitt Crist. It was interesting to see these two becoming more tense and intense as the campaign neared the end.

It is fortunate for the hospital that these men donated their time. Money could not buy what they gave.

I hope there will be many people infected with the same contagious interest. If any people of Pickaway County have ideas, suggestions, advise or help for our next campaign — PLEASE tell us.

The election is over and the levy has failed. Somehow and sometime it must pass.

NEW YORK (AP)—Political oil is just one of many problems besetting the American oil industry this year. But this one at least had better be left to the federal government, says an industry leader today. By political oil he means that which the Soviet Union has dumped on scattered markets to disrupt them.

And a U.S. government official agrees that world events call for stronger bonds between the petroleum industry and the federal government.

Soviet oil in itself could be met competitively by American companies, says L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Co. Houston, Tex. But Moscow has used it for other than economic purposes.

McCollum, chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, reminds fellow oilmen meeting in Chicago:

"This threat goes far beyond the oil industry. This is not just an attack on petroleum or any other single industry. It is part of a planned campaign to wreck the free enterprise system worldwide.

"More often than not, Soviet oil deals are made for political reasons rather than commercial, with world political influence the objective instead of financial profits."

The federal official—John M. Kelly, assistant secretary of the Interior Department for mineral resources—speaking today at the same meeting, stresses moves underway to bolster government-industry relationships. A prime object is preparing the oil and gas industry "for meeting supply and demand requirements in an emergency." Ranking high are both "national security and economic growth."

Kelly says, "Once again the events of history have demonstrated the compelling need for strengthening the bonds between the petroleum industry and the federal government."

The Soviet moves which have upset markets in which American oil companies with international operations had a stake have concentrated on offering oil at prices well below the American. U.S. oilmen stress that this can be done because the Kremlin can set any price that suits its political purpose without regard to cost of production—and certainly without any need to show a profit as the privately owned American firms must strive to do.

Painful as this has been in particular instances, the American oil industry's major problems have been nearer home: overproduction, excess capacity, weak product prices, and the controversy over importation of foreign oil.

WILLIAM SLIM, once an elementary school teacher in Britain, is now Field Marshal the Viscount Slim, and the manner in which he achieved his meteoric rise is detailed in his book "Unofficial History."

Lord Slim begins his tale with a notable commentary on human nature: "there is nothing like seeing the other fellow run to bring back your courage." Once he stood behind a low wall with a captured Italian officer when bombs began falling all around. Slim tells, "At each burst the Italian, with his arms still above his head, and I with my revolver still pointing at his belt buckle, in perfect unison, flexed our knees, and sank below the wall to rise again just in time to duck once more. We must have looked remarkably silly."

Bernie Hart remembers a time when he was coaching a beautiful Hollywood star for her first role in a Broadway play. She was notoriously bad study, and Hart had a very hard time getting her ready for the opening in Boston. Two days before zero hour the worried producer called Hart and said, "Well, has she learned her lines yet?" Hart replied cheerfully, "Boss, she's letter perfect." There was a moment's pause and then he added, "That is, she's learned one letter."

Swiftly Morgan, a statistician of great renown, looked up from the financial page and announced, "It says here that freight car loadings are going down, but that the sale of Scotch whisky has gone up. This means only one thing: more people are getting loaded than freight cars!"

'Everything Here Is a Symbol'

NEW YORK (AP)—“Everything here is a symbol. If you ask a successful American who he is, he immediately wants to show you his motor car.”

The speaker of the lines is Shirley Anne Field, who is known as one of Britain's angry young ladies and also as “the pin-up girl the English intelligentsia.”

Miss Field, a film star, is 24, beautiful, red-haired and green-eyed. She appears more cheerfully outspoken than angry, however, and he herself is one reason she is flip with the lip is that she's half-Irish.

“There is so much contrast in this country,” she observed. “You meet here either people who are unbelievably talented—or people who seem to have no place at all.”

“I'm a cold weather girl and like fresh air. But in New York

you can't open a window. They're all painted together,” she said.

“When I tried to open the window in my hotel, the maid told me, the air-conditioning in this room cost $10,000—and you have to use it.”

Attacking a $6 steak with gleeful relish, Shirley said that despite the fact so many things in America wore a symbolic price tag she was having a high old time visiting here.

“Actually, I live in a world of symbols myself rather than one of reality,” she confessed. “I always feel like I'm on the threshold of maturity, but never quite through. You get very confused when you are young and in this business.”

Shirley feels a close kinship to the late Marilyn Monroe. A war waif reared in an orphanage, she went to work as a secretary at 15, saved her shillings to take drama lessons. She was a model and a television performer before winning movie recognition.

As did Marilyn Monroe, she aspires to glamor, but she resents the thought that to a studio an actress is “just a mobile, animated piece of property.”

“I picked show business because it forces a kind of discipline upon one. But to be yourself takes a lot of courage. In the final analysis, you're alone in what you try to do in life,” she said.

“And you get lost if you're not yourself. If you don't know who you are, who does?”

“But all I can do is act—and cook. Sometimes I feel happy only when I'm working. You need a complete dedication to self. But I have fears, and when I'm acting someone else—well, those fears go.”

The World Will Miss Her

It will be a different world without Eleanor Roosevelt. She was, in her heart, a humanitarian, and even when one disagreed with her about her politics, it was possible to realize what this world achieved for those elements in our population who turned to her for leadership.

Imagine a young girl, coming from what in those days was called “high society” to Rivington Street, on the lower East Side of New York to work in a Settlement House! When, later in life, she said that she had not known that such conditions existed, it can only be said that outside of the Jewish ghetto and the Italian ghetto and Chinatown and the Five Points, few knew that such conditions could exist in New York although we had heard of the poverty in Chicago against which Jane Addams battled.

Eleanor Roosevelt thus came to know the sweat shop, the home industries of women and small children sewing buttons on pants, making paper flowers, earning a penny here and there; falling asleep at the table, falling off a bench, many children crowded into one room. What such sights did to a sensitive person who came out of a genteel home that had long known wealth and leisure and culture!

Eleanor Roosevelt then went to work with Florence Kelley of the Women's Trade Union League which was battling for equal pay for equal work, for protection to pregnant women who had to work under horrible conditions for a livelihood. These conditions do not exist anywhere today, but they did exist in my boyhood and when Eleanor Roosevelt came into this environment.

Suddenly, this shy woman from uptown discovered life at its rawest. She could have run away from it. She chose not to. She devoted herself to rectifying the faults which appeared in our society. There can be no question that Eleanor Roosevelt sometimes went too far and sometimes was used. Also, sometimes, in her writings, there was less homework than one expected, but what with Mrs. Roosevelt's travels and her many organizational activities, it was surprising that she had enough time to do any studious writing.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: Why are flowers taken out of your hospital room overnight? Mrs. A. E. (Iowa)

Dear Mrs. E.: Few doctors and nurses can explain this tradition which many hospitals have given up.

It's not because flowers use up vital oxygen during the night. Flowers consume little, compared to one nurse sitting at the bedside.

Pungent posies may irritate your nose during the night. Removing them prevents this and guarantees that no loud sneeze will wake you from a sound sleep!

Dear Doctor: Neither Mother nor Dad had (rheumatoid) arthritis. Why should it strike two of us six children? Mrs. O. O. (Conn.)

Dear Mrs. O.: No one really knows. Even though you inherit a special tendency, rheumatoid arthritis may not strike.

Something must spark the attack — infection, injury, over-fatigue — even nervous tension.

A policeman once suffered two bouts (1) when he was appointed to the force and (2) when he was thrown off for taking a bribe!

Dear Doctor: My chronic glaucoma was caught before it damaged my eye, but my doctor won't operate. Why? Mrs. M. A. (Calif.)

Dear Mrs. A.: Glaucoma — high pressure inside the eye — begins when fluid can't drain out. It resembles any clogged drain. When the drain completely stops up again and again, someone has to operate to prevent future trouble.

Like Drano R, medicines may unplug continually clogged channels. Then you don't need surgery to fix your optical plumbing.

Dear Doctor: The doctor wants to remove my womb to fix my sagging bladder. Is this necessary? Mrs. W.T. (Manitoba)

Dear Mrs. T.: Muscles and supporting tissue around the birth canal are overstretched. The bladder bulges from in front and the womb drops down from above.

Satisfactory repair is sometimes impossible without removing the womb.

Why worry? You're over 40 and have all the children you want. You're merely giving up the starting place for a possible future cancer!

Dear Doctor: My youngest has a soft lump behind her ear. Could this be a brain tumor? Her older sister has one. Mrs. J. M. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. M.: Brain tumors cause lots of trouble inside the skull, but not on the skin behind the ear.

Your young daughter probably has a tiny skin cyst or swollen gland. Neither need treatment unless infection creeps in.

These lumps are so common, you might even say they're normal!

Death Knell Is Sounded For Cadet Teaching Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After years of arguments and delays, the State Board of Education has set the death date for Ohio's cadet teaching program.

By a 17-4 vote Monday, the board set Oct. 1, 1968, as the deadline after which it will not issue cadet teacher certificates. These certificates permit a person to teach in the elementary grades with only two years of college training.

Under the new requirement, entrance of students into cadet training programs at Ohio colleges and universities would be discontinued after Oct. 1, 1966.

Francis E. Gaul of Cleveland expressed the greatest opposition to the action Monday. Gaul said the higher standards would work a hardship on parochial schools which, he said, have experienced more critical growth problems than the public schools.

He told the board they "should consider every phase of education and not just public education." Also voting against the measure were Ward M. Miller of Portsmouth, John W. Morrison of Aurora and Paul L. Walker of Columbus. Board President Wayne E. Shaffer of Bryan, the presiding officer, did not vote.

William T. Monroe of Euclid said he voted in favor of the motion so he would be in a position to call for reconsideration should a teacher shortage develop.

Francis E. Spicer of Akron, who served as chairman of a board committee advocating the higher requirements, said the probability of an adequate teacher supply was sufficient to make the move.

However, Spicer said, should a shortage develop prior to the deadline date the board could continue temporary, or emergency, certificates. If the shortage became critical, the governor could be asked to suspend the new regulation, he said.

Ohio is one of only six states still using the cadet program for elementary teachers. Efforts to tighten the requirements were first launched in 1941. The advent of World War II stopped that effort and periodic moves since then have been squelched. Last year the State Department of Education issued 1,425 cadet certificates.

Other elementary certificate requirements also were tightened in the board action Monday. After Sept. 1, 1966, eight-year professional and permanent certificates will call for the same training as for comparable high school certificate requirements.

In another case, the board postponed until its next meeting, Dec. 10, action on a proposed resolution by E. E. Meyers of Ironton, who sharply criticized a local board regulation which would prohibit students from taking college preparatory work or advanced courses because they had failed to make grades of "C" in certain subjects.

Meyers said he had no quarrel with an attorney general's ruling that the board had the right to set the standards. He said, however, the regulations "which tend to dictate the future courses which students must follow and eliminate the child's or his parents' right of choice of a career before graduation from high school are unreasonable."

Students reportedly are required to maintain a "C" average in seventh and eighth grade mathematics, English and science in order to take a college preparatory course. The regulations also require "C" grade averages in certain subjects before an advanced course in the subject field could be taken.

State Supt. E. E. Holt and his staff were asked to study the matter.

The board approved nine additions, most of them corrective in nature, to its legislative proposals to the General Assembly and withheld action on four others.

Sent back to committee for later consideration were proposals to:—Establish a statewide uniform entrance age which would require first grade pupils to be at least 6 years of age on Sept. 15 except in those districts which use psychological testing programs to determine entrance.

—Exempt the professional staff of the State Department of Education from civil service and the state salary schedule.

—Change the title of "executive head" to "local superintendent" in all systems having 50 or more teachers.

—Authorize all school districts to make and pay for school surveys. (This can be done legally at present only by county districts.)

One of the recommendations adopted by the board calls for state regulation of business colleges and proprietary schools as well as regulation of the sale of correspondence courses.

Elusive Tootsie Wearies Barkeep

DAYTON, py. (AP) — Regular patrons of City Hall Cafe say these days as they come in: "Has Tootsie struck again?"

Harry Rhode, the bartender, says yes, wearily.

It seems that Tootsie — whoever he may be — has made off with three boxes of one-cent rolls of the chewy Tootsie rolls in the past two months. He hasn't touched anything else — not even the rat poison Harry sprinkles around the candy case when he closes up shop.

There has been wide-spread speculation about Tootsie's identity among the patrons. The consensus is that he (or she) is a sweet-toothed rat. And tonight, likely a not, tootsie will strike again.

Rhodes Says State Income On Upswing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State auditor and Gov.-Elect James A. Rhodes reported today that general funds operations of the state in the first four months of this fiscal year showed receipt of $252,884,797, which exceeded expenditures by $6,306,895.

Rhodes said the contributing to the improved financial position of the state was the marked increase in tax revenue accruing to the general revenue fund, linked with a substantial decline in expenditures from last year.

His figures showed collections of the last four months totaling $140,882,548, up $11,286,280 from last year. At the same time, general revenue fund expenditures amounted to $246,577,902, down $7,794,503 from last year.

However, Rhodes pointed out that the improved financial tone is tempered by the fact that during the last four months there was a transfer of $19 million in liquor funds to the general revenue fund to finance general state operations. This is $7.5 million more than for the same period last year.

Death Knell Is Sounded For Cadet Teaching Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After years of arguments and delays, the State Board of Education has set the death date for Ohio's cadet teaching program.

By a 17-4 vote Monday, the board set Oct. 1, 1968, as the deadline after which it will not issue cadet teacher certificates. These certificates permit a person to teach in the elementary grades with only two years of college training.

Under the new requirement, entrance of students into cadet training programs at Ohio colleges and universities would be discontinued after Oct. 1, 1966.

Francis E. Gaul of Cleveland expressed the greatest opposition to the action Monday. Gaul said the higher standards would work a hardship on parochial schools which, he said, have experienced more critical growth problems than the public schools.

He told the board they "should consider every phase of education and not just public education."

Also voting against the measure were Ward M. Miller of Portsmouth, John W. Morrison of Aurora and Paul L. Walker of Columbus. Board President Wayne E. Shaffer of Bryan, the presiding officer, did not vote.

William T. Monroe of Euclid said he voted in favor of the motion so he would be in a position to call for reconsideration should a teacher shortage develop.

Francis E. Spicer of Akron, who served as chairman of a board committee advocating the higher requirements, said the probability of an adequate teacher supply was sufficient to make the move.

However, Spicer said, should a shortage develop prior to the deadline date the board could continue temporary, or emergency, certificates. If the shortage became critical, the governor could be asked to suspend the new regulation, he said.

Ohio is one of only six states still using the cadet program for elementary teachers. Efforts to tighten the requirements were first launched in 1941. The advent of World War II stopped that effort and periodic moves since then have been squelched. Last year the State Department of Education issued 1,425 cadet certificates.

Other elementary certificate requirements also were tightened in the board action Monday. After Sept. 1, 1966, eight-year professional and permanent certificates will call for the same training as for comparable high school certificate requirements.

In another case, the board postponed until its next meeting, Dec. 10, action on a proposed resolution by E. E. Meyers of Ironton, who sharply criticized a local board regulation which would prohibit students from taking college preparatory work or advanced courses because they had failed to make grades of "C" in certain subjects.

Mrs. Jackson Demonstrates Many Flower Arrangements

Mrs. James Jackson, Ewington, created a dozen or more flower arrangements at the demonstration she presented last night for Pickaway County Garden Club members and guests at the Circleville High School social room.

Mrs. Jackson, a nationally accredited flower show judge and teacher in the art of arrangement managed to keep up an amusing flow of talk as she worked. She gave arrangers many valuable hints on technique and talked about the new trend toward modern arrangements.

According to Mrs. Jackson the modern arrangement making allows the arranger considerable freedom to do as she pleases. She must however adhere to basic principles such as proportion and balance.

It is alright to allow the needle point holders to show provided they are not a hideous green or actually unsightly. When wiring stems she advised doing it inconspicuously. No judge likes to see wires.

Mrs. Jackson made traditional, Japanese, and modern free form arrangements. Some of the new modern containers have very small openings to hold the plant material. This makes the use of needle point holders unnecessary she explained.

Her first arrangement was done in the traditional manner. She used a container of antique white. It was in the form of a cupid holding aloft two basins. The twin arrangements were made in these. She chose eucalyptis branches for line, heather for spray material and lavender chrysanthemums for the focal point.

The speaker laughingly related that this expression "focal point" had become a nasty term. Arrangers now say "area of accent interest".

Many of the lecturer's arrange-

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

She's Penalized!

DEAR ABBY: A very popular boy at school (he is a basketball star) asked me out. And where did he take me? Parking! Then he bought me a malt at some dark, out-of-the-way drive-in where no one could see us. He did this four times. When a school dance came along he asked somebody else. When he sees me in the halls at school he acts like he doesn't even know me. I was hoping if I parked with him a few times he would get to like me well enough to ask me to some school dances, but it isn't working out that way. How can I get him to date me where we can be seen?

PARKED
DEAR PARKED: Apparently the boy is not proud to be seen with you. (And can you blame him?) You gave too much too soon. You'll never make his first string. Turn in your suit and get off his team. And let this be a lesson to you.

DEAR ABBY: Can I sue my husband for divorce for something that happened four years ago? I just found out for sure that my husband ran around with another girl in 1958. When I told him about it he said that unless you catch a person within a year of the crime, your warranty runs out. Is it true?

AZELIA
DEAR AZELIA: You did not marry a washing machine—you married a man. Warranties do not apply to people. But think it over. How has he been behaving since?

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you were big enough to make it clear that under no circumstances is anyone permitted to "involve" another by name in the Catholic confession. This old joke points it out: An old shrew went to confession and spent the whole time complaining to the priest about her husband. She was flabbergasted and outraged when the priest gave HER a whopper of a penance and she was told to say several rosaries. The reply to her protest was, Since YOU confessed your husband's sins, YOU get his penance."

ANOTHER CATHOLIC

DEAR ABBY: A member of my husband's family died recently. At the funeral parlor I saw my husband's brother and his wife. Neither the brother nor his wife gave me a hello. When I complained to my husband about it, he said the funeral parlor was not the place for socializing and that people rarely ever say hello to people they meet there. I've been to funeral parlors before, Abby, and nobody ever passed me up with that kind of excuse. Am I wrong or is my husband?

PASSED UP
DEAR PASSED: Don't criticize anyone for unsociable behavior at a funeral parlor. They could be understandably preoccupied.

Mrs. Jackson Demonstrates Many Flower Arrangements

Mrs. James Jackson, Ewington, created a dozen or more flower arrangements at the demonstration she presented last night for Pickaway County Garden Club members and guests at the Circleville High School social room.

Mrs. Jackson, a nationally accredited flower show judge and teacher in the art of arrangement managed to keep up an amusing flow of talk as she worked. She gave arrangers many valuable hints on technique and talked about the new trend toward modern arrangements.

According to Mrs. Jackson the modern arrangement making allows the arranger considerable freedom to do as she pleases. She must however adhere to basic principles such as proportion and balance.

It is alright to allow the needle point holders to show provided they are not a hideous green or actually unsightly. When wiring stems she advised doing it inconspicuously. No judge likes to see wires.

Mrs. Jackson made traditional, Japanese, and modern free form arrangements. Some of the new modern containers have very small openings to hold the plant material. This makes the use of needle point holders unnecessary she explained.

Her first arrangement was done in the traditional manner. She used a container of antique white. It was in the form of a cupid holding aloft two basins. The twin arrangements were made in these. She chose eucalyptis branches for line, heather for spray material and lavender chrysanthemums for the focal point.

The speaker laughingly related that this expression "focal point" had become a nasty term. Arrangers now say "area of accent interest".

Many of the lecturer's arrangements were executed in the modern free form manner. Several had line material which was scraped honeysuckle vine. This, she assured her listeners, was available everywhere. Bases are often omitted in modern arrangements, she said.

Mrs. Jackson corresponds with other judges and arrangers in many parts of the nation. She says she often swaps material with her correspondents.

She made one arrangement in a modern bottle of black pottery, using permanent red roses. She said the permanent flowers are difficult to work with but she believes that demonstrators will use them more in the future.

Her last arrangement incorporated a black ebony madonna, a hand carved primitive. She used black leaves, black line material and large white chrysanthemums in this arrangement.

Mrs. Theodore Huston, president, opened the meeting with a welcome to guests. She announced the following garden club dates: Nov. 16, a workshop in the home of Mrs. Emmett Barnhart, Northridge Road. Members are asked to bring cones, gourds and buckeyes. The workshop is to begin at 7:30 p. m. Christmas decorations will be constructed for sale at the December Garden Club of Ohio Flower Show.

November 20, tea and lecture on "Table Settings" by Mrs. Virginia Williams at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts at 2 p. m. The fee will be one dollar. Mrs. Huston is taking registrations.

Kippy-Kit Has Sold Products In Distant Corners of World

ACTIVITY AT KIPPY-KIT — This operation of machines and molds is a common sight at the Kippy-Kit plant, rear of 146 Pleasant St. Handling the production line here is Shirley Goodman and Henry Ayres. The plant, originated and operated for many years by the Goeller family, is now under the ownership of Richard Koch. (Staff Photo)

EDITOR'S NOTE — As a salute to industry, the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce and The Circleville Herald have undertaken to compile and publish a series of background stories on industry and the valuable part it plays in the community. The city is proud of its industries and the vital role they assume in promoting progress here. Today's story describes the origin and continued operation of the Kippy-Kit Co.

An industry vested with an early beginning in Circleville is the Kippy-Kit Co., rear of 146 Pleasant St.

The firm, manufacturer of various and renowned novelties, was a heavy and continuous producer under three generations of the John C. Goeller family. Today the plant operates under the ownership of Richard Koch who assumed command last year.

The business originally started in the mid 1800s as a broom producing firm. The Goellers operated the business at several locations prior to establishing the present day plant.

Thousands of household brooms were produced at the firm's factory which was located where the Lincoln Molded Plastics plant now stands. Brooms manufactured here were sold all over the world.

HOWEVER, the broom plant was destroyed by fire in 1926. But the Goellers responded quickly and by the next year production again was under way at a new location and the advent of new products blossomed.

By 1938 the broom, once a household mainstay, faced stiff competition from new gadgets reaching the market. This prompted the Goellers to seek additional ideas and new products.

Within a short time, the firm was producing what was to become its most famous product — the Kippy-Kit. The combined shoe shine and cloth kit bound in leather was the inspired idea of Lawrence E. Goeller Sr. who now lives in retirement at 623 Beverly Road.

Lawrence obtained a patent on his product. His creative mind also led to 12 more patents during his active career in the business.

The Kippy-Kit, taken from the word "kip" which means a side or bundle of leather hide, soon gained renown in most corners of the world. The product was shipped to 39 countries.

Lawrence Goeller tells of the time Pat Kirwin, a Pickaway County native, saw a Kippy-Kit in a store in Cairo, Egypt, during his travels. He purchased it on the spot.

THE FIRM employed about 65 persons during a peak era prior to the depression years. Purchasers included some of the large department stores across the country. About 7,800 accounts were handled at this time.

Goeller still tells of the year he hired the entire graduating class of Circleville senior boys. Many of them went on to establish themselves in exemplary fashion in various trades and professions.

The Goellers received many letters commending their products, including one from President Herbert Hoover. The firm also was once asked to produce a special kit for the ruling head of a principality in India.

Another product gaining wide acclaim was the "Eye-Opener," a humorous kit which came into being during the prohibition days. The novelty was directed, in a friendly nature, to those reputed as being heavy imbibers.

During World War II, the firm produced hundreds of personal hygiene kits for servicemen. However, as was the plight of other industries at that time, Kippy-Kit faced the constant struggle of obtaining materials made scarce by the war.

Koch purchased the Kippy-Kit operation on Nov. 1, 1961, following the death of Lawrence E. Goeller Jr. Production is carried out along lines similar to that used prior to the change of ownership.

AUTOMATION and new production procedure now require eight employees. Two of the workers, Grace Cunningham and Ann Purcell, have been with Kippy-Kit for more than 30 years.

Russell Ayres and Amanda Mount have worked for the firm about 12 years. Henry Ayres and Betty Gentzel have been there about a year. Shirley Goodman is the newest employee with three months service.

The Circleville industry places the accent on advertising specialties and novelties. These include telephone directory protective covers, leather goods of all types, heat sealable vinyls, special wallets and car visor kits. Other operations are contract work for rewinding weatherable film and self-dispensing packaging materials.

Koch and his staff constantly seek new manufacturing ideas and work toward modification of old products.

High Court OKs Verdict On Presser

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court by a tie vote has upheld the conviction of William Presser, official of the Teamsters Union in Ohio, on a charge of obstructing justice.

Presser was accused of obstructing the work of the Senate Rackets Committee by tearing and mutilating an invoice contained in records of Teamsters Joint Council 41 in Cleveland. His sentence was eight months' imprisonment.

The Supreme Court announced affirmation of the conviction in a brief order which said the court was divided 4 - 4. Justice Goldberg took no part in consideration of the case. Tie votes by the high tribunal affirm the lower court judgment.

The invoice was from a jewelry firm and bore names of eight persons who were to get $100 silver champagne buckets for Christmas in 1955. Among the names was that of George Bender, former named by the Teamsters Union to an "anti-racketeering commission" set up by the union to investigate corruption and improper practices of its own officials.

The Senate committee was investigating misuse of union funds to influence public officials and to enrich union officers.

Presser's appeal to the high tribunal alleged "misconduct" by government counsel in final argument to the trial jury in federal court in Cleveland. The appeal contended he had been denied a fair and impartial trial.

The firm, manufacturer of various and renowned novelties, was a heavy and continuous producer under three generations of the John C. Goeller family. Today the plant operates under the ownership of Richard Koch who assumed command last year.

The business originally started in the mid 1800s as a broom producing firm. The Goellers operated the business at several locations prior to establishing the present day plant.

Thousands of household brooms were produced at the firm's factory which was located where the Lincoln Molded Plastics plant now stands. Brooms manufactured here were sold all over the world.

HOWEVER, the broom plant was destroyed by fire in 1926. But the Goellers responded quickly and by the next year production again was under way at a new location and the advent of new products blossomed.

By 1938 the broom, once a household mainstay, faced stiff competition from new gadgets reaching the market. This prompted the Goellers to seek additional ideas and new products.

Within a short time, the firm was producing what was to become its most famous product — the Kippy-Kit. The combined shoe shine and cloth kit bound in leather was the inspired idea of Lawrence E. Goeller Sr. who now lives in retirement at 623 Beverly Road.

Lawrence obtained a patent on his product. His creative mind also led to 12 more patents during his active career in the business.

The Kippy-Kit, taken from the word "kip" which means a side or bundle of leather hide, soon gained renown in most corners of the world. The product was shipped to 39 countries.

Lawrence Goeller tells of the time Pat Kirwin, a Pickaway County native, saw a Kippy-Kit in a store in Cairo, Egypt, during his travels. He purchased it on the spot.

THE FIRM employed about 65 persons during a peak era prior to the depression years. Purchasers included some of the large department stores across the country. About 7,800 accounts were handled at this time.

Goeller still tells of the year he hired the entire graduating class of Circleville senior boys. Many of them went on to establish themselves in exemplary fashion in various trades and professions.

The Goellers received many letters commending their products, including one from President Herbert Hoover. The firm also was once asked to produce a special kit for the ruling head of a principality in India.

Another product gaining wide acclaim was the "Eye-Opener," a humorous kit which came into being during the prohibition days. The novelty was directed, in a friendly nature, to those reputed as being heavy imbibers.

During World War II, the firm produced hundreds of personal hygiene kits for servicemen. However, as was the plight of other industries at that time, Kippy-Kit faced the constant struggle of obtaining materials made scarce by the war.

Koch purchased the Kippy-Kit operation on Nov. 1, 1961, following the death of Lawrence E. Goeller Jr. Production is carried out along lines similar to that used prior to the change of ownership.

AUTOMATION and new production procedure now require eight employees. Two of the workers, Grace Cunningham and Ann Purcell, have been with Kippy-Kit for more than 30 years.

Russell Ayres and Amanda Mount have worked for the firm about 12 years. Henry Ayres and Betty Gentzel have been there about a year. Shirley Goodman is the newest employee with three months service.

The Circleville industry places the accent on advertising specialties and novelties. These include telephone directory protective covers, leather goods of all types, heat sealable vinyls, special wallets and car visor kits. Other operations are contract work for rewinding weatherable film and self-dispensing packaging materials.

Koch and his staff constantly seek new manufacturing ideas and work toward modification of old products.

Village Is Granted Status as Township

CINCINNATI (AP)—The village of Springdale north of Cincinnati has become Springdale Twp. The change was approved Tuesday by the Hamilton County Commission and was planned as a legal formality which exempts the village from paying an eight-tenths mill tax levy to Springfield Twp.

Big Brother Watching

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green State University is using a portable television camera as a watchdog over money and traffic.

F. Eugene Beatty, director of buildings and facilities, said the camera permits police to keep an eye on the university business office and box offices at athletic contests, where large amounts of money are changing hands, and to check traffic at key intersections on the campus.

High Court OKs Verdict On Presser

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court by a tie vote has upheld the conviction of William Presser, official of the Teamsters Union in Ohio, on a charge of obstructing justice.

Presser was accused of obstructing the work of the Senate Rackets Committee by tearing and mutilating an invoice contained in records of Teamsters Joint Council 41 in Cleveland. His sentence was eight months' imprisonment.

The Supreme Court announced affirmance of the conviction in a brief order which said the court was divided 4 - 4. Justice Goldberg took no part in consideration of the case. Tie votes by the high tribunal affirm the lower court judgment.

The invoice was from a jewelry firm and bore names of eight persons who were to get $100 silver champagne buckets for Christmas in 1955. Among the names was that of George Bender, former named by the Teamsters Union to an "anti-racketeering commission" set up by the union to investigate corruption and improper practices of its own officials.

The Senate committee was investigating misuse of union funds to influence public officials and to enrich union officers.

Presser's appeal to the high tribunal alleged "misconduct by government counsel in final argument to the trial jury in federal court in Cleveland. The appeal contended he had been denied a fair and impartial trial.

Dayton 'Sabin Sunday' Program Is Postponed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The "Sabin Sunday" scheduled for Dayton and Montgomery County Dec. 9 has been put off at least until late winter or early spring. County medical society spokesmen said the reason is the variance in expert opinion as to whether Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine had anything to do with several polio or polio-like cases reported recently. Types I and II already have been given to 315,000 here.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Questions of interest to ex-service men should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James Shea. His office is in the basement of the Courthouse.

Q—Who has top priority for admission to VA hospitals?
A—Top priority goes to veterans needing hospitalization because of injuries or diseases incurred or aggravated in line of duty in active service.

Q—How much does the VA spend annually on medical care for veterans?

A—Congress has approved an appropriation of $1,017,892,000.00 for that purpose for fiscal year 1963.

Q—May peacetime veteran not obtain VA hospitalization?

A—Only peacetime veterans with service-connected disabilities. Those peacetime veterans whose service-connected disabilities were compensable have always had this privilege. A new law grants this benefit to those whose service-connected disabilities are noncompensable. (less than 10 per cent)

Q—How may states have given a bonus to veterans of the Korean Conflict?

A—Nineteen: Conn., Del., Ill., Ind., Iowa, Ky., La., Mass. Mich., Minn., Mont., New Hampshire, Ohio, Pa., Rhode Island, S. Dakota, Vermont, Washington and W. Virginia.

Q—Will those who have entered the service during the past several years be entitled to G. I. Loans such as those who were in during World War II and the Korean Conflict?

A—Not under present laws. Such rights came to an end after the close of the Korean Conflict on January 31, 1955.

Ex-Denison University Language Prof Dies

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Willis Arden Chamberlin, 94, who taught modern languages at Denison University in Granville for 46 years, is dead 25 years after retiring. He died in Newark Hospital Tuesday after two weeks' illness.

The professor emeritus, a native of Geneva, Ohio, was an 1890 graduate of Denison and last surviving founder of the Theta of Ohio chapter of Phi Beta Kappa formed in 1911.

Lausche Seeking More Cuba Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, proposed Tuesday the Senate Foreign Relations Committee call in a "complete briefing" covering Soviet missiles and military equipment in Cuba.

Lausche made public a letter to Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, asking that officials of the State and Defense Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) be asked to clarify what he said were conflicting reports on actual conditions existing on the island.

Lausche, a member of the committee, wrote:

"It is essential that we know what is happening, what agreement was made (with Russia), to what extent it is being fulfilled,

Rocky Corrects Magazine Story

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took exception today to a quotation in Newsweek magazine quoting him on whether he could beat President Kennedy in a race for the presidency.

The magazine quoted the Republican governor as having said: "I would have beaten Kennedy in 1960 and I can beat him in 1964."

Told of the quotation, Rockefeller asserted:

"This is completely untrue. I have said Kennedy can be beaten in 1964. I've never said I could beat him nor have I ever said I could have beaten him in 1960."

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has granted the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program $90,000 over a three-year period to conduct a study of the value of job training and placement for alcoholics seeking recovery.

4 School Areas Plan New Vote

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Special elections will be conducted in four suburban school districts on Dec. 11 for the resubmission of proposals for new operating tax levies which were defeated by voters last Tuesday.

The Dec. 11 date was set Monday night by the Oregon and Springfield boards of education. The Oregon board, which seeks approval of a 4-mill levy, originally had scheduled a special election on Dec. 6.

In changing the date the Oregon board also rescinded its previous action to close schools Nov. 26 pending outcome of the vote.

The Springfield school board picked the Dec. 11 date for consideration of a 3-mill levy and called a public meeting at 6:30 measure to taxpayers.

The association also reported total consumption for the quarter was 80,203,552 gross tons, compared with 74,723,132 in the same period last year.

Fairfield Fire Agency Services Are Curtailed

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Francis J. Miller says all but emergency expenses for the Fairfield Fire Department will be cut off because of the defeat last week of a proposed one-half mill levy for firefighting operations. He said he hoped to get another vote on a fire levy as soon as possible. The levy would have provided funds for five years.

Lausche made public a letter to Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, asking that officials of the State and Defense Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) be asked to clarify what he said were conflicting reports on actual conditions existing on the island.

Lausche, a member of the committee, wrote:

"It is essential that we know what is happening, what agreement was made (with Russia), to what extent it is being fulfilled,

Rocky Corrects Magazine Story

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took exception today to a quotation in Newsweek magazine quoting him on whether he could beat President Kennedy in a race for the presidency.

The magazine quoted the Republican governor as having said: "I would have beaten Kennedy in 1960 and I can beat him in 1964."

Told of the quotation, Rockefeller asserted: "This is completely untrue. I have said Kennedy can be beaten in 1964. I've never said I could beat him nor have I ever said I could have beaten him in 1960."

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has granted the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program $90,000 over a three-year period to conduct a study of the value of job training and placement for alcoholics seeking recovery.

4 School Areas Plan New Vote

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Special elections will be conducted in four suburban school districts on Dec. 11 for the resubmission of proposals for new operating tax levies which were defeated by voters last Tuesday.

The Dec. 11 date was set Monday night by the Oregon and Springfield boards of education. The Oregon board, which seeks approval of a 4-mill levy, originally had scheduled a special election on Dec. 6.

In changing the date the Oregon board also rescinded its previous action to close schools Nov. 26 pending outcome of the vote.

The Springfield school board picked the Dec. 11 date for consideration of a 3-mill levy and called a public meeting at 6:30 measure to taxpayers.

Iron Ore Consumption Well Ahead of 1961

CLEVELAND (AP)—Total third-quarter receipts of iron ore gross tons in the United States and Canada amounted to $83,753,523, compared with $72,885,878 in the corresponding year-ago period, the American Iron Ore Association reported today.

The association also reported total consumption for the quarter was 80,203,552 gross tons, compared with 74,723,132 in the same period last year.

Fairfield Fire Agency Services Are Curtailed

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Francis J. Miller says all but emergency expenses for the Fairfield Fire Department will be cut off because of the defeat last week of a proposed one-half mill levy for firefighting operations. He said he hoped to get another vote on a fire levy as soon as possible. The levy would have provided funds for five years.

Graduated Income Tax Cut Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Income tax cut promised by President Kennedy for 1963 may take effect gradually over a period of one to two years, if Congress agrees.

The Treasury has been considering for some time a gradual approach to the President's proposal to minimize the impact on the federal budget, it is understood.

Even if the step by step technique is adopted, however, the administration wants the first rate cut to become effective as of next Jan. 1.

There has been talk of lowering rates at the bottom from the present 20 per cent to 15 per cent and those at the top from the present 92 per cent to 65 per cent.

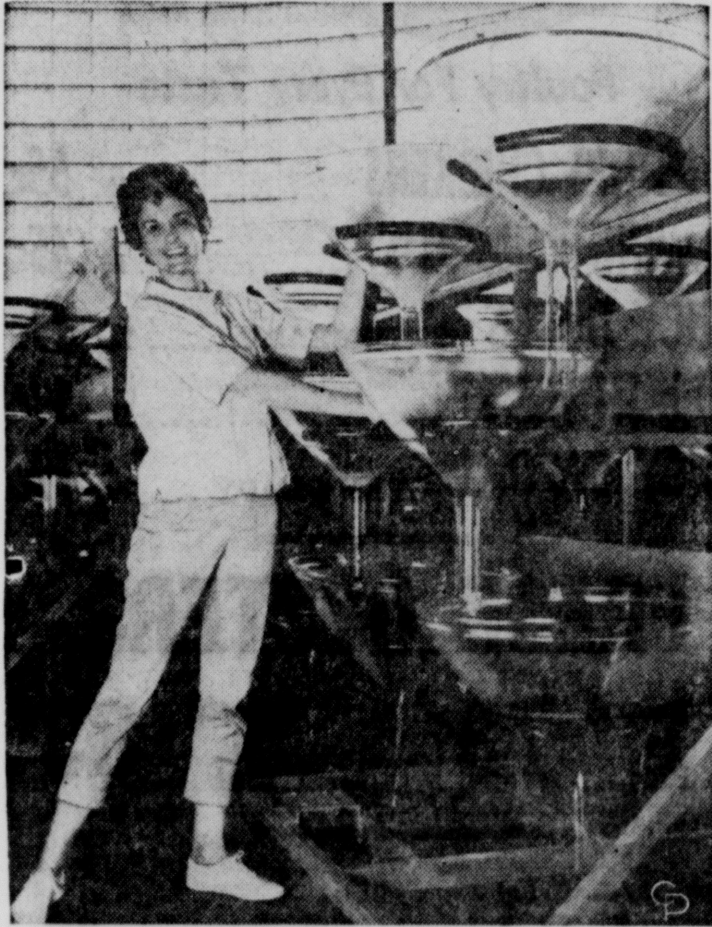

There has been speculation, too, that the 52 per cent corporate rate may be cut to 47 per cent, and that corporations be put on a quarterly pay-as-you-go basis in line with a suggestion once broached by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Ohio Reserve Unit Still in Uniform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first Ohioans called to active duty during the Cuban crisis still are in uniform.

They are members of an Air Force Reserve recovery outfit with headquarters in Columbus. When they were federalized late in October, their information officer, Maj. Howard B. Taylor, said the active duty probably would be around 10 days.

But Taylor said today that it has gone beyond that "because we're still needed," and he has no idea when the men will be released. They are stationed at Port Columbus Airport.

COCKTAILS, ANYONE?—These "cocktail glasses" will be color TV picture tubes after numerous manufacturing operations at RCA's new color tube facilities in Marion, Ind., where 'round-the-clock production is underway to help meet mounting demands. (Central Press)

Frost Nip— Frostbite

FROST NIP

Q. Members of our club hike in the mountains during winter months. Can you give us some advice about frostbite?

A. Let's first talk about "frost nip"—the mild form of frostbite. Frost nip is usually a result of the effects of extreme cold on the nose, cheeks, chin, ears, fingers or toes. High wind alone can cause it or can increase the danger. It's hard to believe, but the chilling effect of a temperature of +20°F. combined with a 45-mile wind is identical to that of a -40°F. temperature accompanied by a 2-mile breeze! Watch for sudden blanching of the skin. Should this occur, warm the area by using steady pressure (no rubbing!) of the hand until normal color is restored. Warm frost-nipped fingers by holding them motionless in the armpit. One fairly reliable sign of approaching frost nip is sudden numbness in the affected part, often followed by a feeling of warmth. If this danger sign is instantly heeded, frost nip will never progress to the much more serious frostbite. Next week—Frostbite.

Hope for Near Normal Life Is March of Dimes Objective

"We study the child, not the laboratory report."

When Dr. Jane Borges, director of the March of Dimes-financed Arthritis Special Treatment Center at the Home for Crippled Children in Pittsburgh, Pa., says this, she isn't trying to put the laboratory on our of business.

But she is trying — and succeeding — in putting children stricken with rheumatoid arthritis back in the important business of leading nearly normal lives.

Juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, which afflicts 30,000 youngsters in the United States, is a cruel disease which comes and goes like a thief in the night. Seemingly healthy children suddenly contract high fever, swollen and aching joints, rash, anemia, and severe involvement of body organs. Many suffer deformities of the limbs. Total or partial disability often occurs.

Despite continuing research, neither the cause of juvenile rheumatoid arthritis nor the reason for its unpredictable cycle of recurrence is yet known.

What Dr. Borges and a growing number of experts in the treatment of rheumatic diseases do believe they know is how to prevent much of the permanent physical, mental and social scarring which have been agonizing by-products of this disease for so long a time.

Rejecting old theories of prolonged bed rest and virtual isolation, these innovators have introduced the rheumatoid arthritis child to programs of intensive therapy and close contact with children of the same age group. They encourage regular school attendance.

At the same time, education of the family in all aspects of the illness is begun early by the physician with diligent follow-up by the social worker.

In most cases, successful results have been achieved.

At the March of Dimes-supported center in Pittsburgh, for example, Dr. Borges last September admitted a 12-year-old girl who could not move her shoulders, elbows, or arms. She contracted rheumatoid arthritis at age six and had been in and out of hospitals since that time. When she was at home, she was rarely taken outside and saw other children only infrequently. She was painfully shy, took little interest in her studies.

Today, nearly a year later, this same girl is still confined to a wheelchair. She must attend many of her classes at the Home's branch of the Pittsburgh school system while in treatment. Other complications persist.

However, daily baths in the Hubbard tank, used so successfully by polio victims, and twice-daily physical therapy have restored the use of her arms and hands. Occupational therapy — she is just now finishing a throw rug — has restored movement to her once-frozen shoulders. The challenge of competition with her schoolmates has transformed her into an excellent student.

In another case, a six-year-old girl, after four years of operations and assorted treatment, was unable to adjust to school and playmates because of intermittent pain and the childhood awareness that she was the only child with a brace.

Placed among children with similar problems, she was exposed to the physical and social therapies of Dr. Borges' program. She went back home six months later "a different child... obedient... getting along happily with brothers, sisters and playmates," according to a grateful mother.

Dr. Borges, a trim, vibrant woman, views her work at the March of Dimes-financed center and its results this way:

Perrysburg Firm Slated For Sale in December

NEW YORK (AP) — American Cyanamid Co. said it has agreed to purchase the business and assets of Glaskyd Inc. of Perrysburg, Ohio. No price was disclosed.

The announcement said the sale is subject to approval of Glaskyd stockholders. The transfer of the business would take place in mid-December.

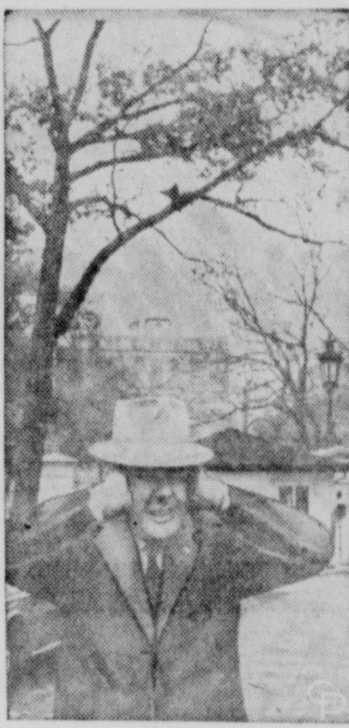

"The laboratory reports on these children, after we have worked with them for a time, are still the same. The disease is still there. But the individual is not the same person we saw in the beginning."

"By also treating the emotional and environmental problems associated with juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, not just the physical ones, we are often able to change attitudes of despair to ones of cheerfulness and hope."

A prominent Canadian physician and specialist in juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. William M. Gibson, recently described the ideal treatment setting as "an area where personnel acquainted with the problem of arthritis in children are present every time the patient is seen."

Arthritis Special Treatment Centers, supported by local chapters of The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds, are already providing this service in Pittsburgh through Dr. Borges, and through her colleagues in many other American cities.

Additional centers are planned — centers of hope where parents can read the future in their children's faces, not in the laboratory reports.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS—A Washington newsman protects his ears as a recording of a starling in distress bleats from a speaker (center of bottom limb of tree at left) outside the White House. The method is being used to keep starlings away from the white walls and columns of the Executive Mansion. It was necessary to get a recorded complaint of a distressed District of Columbia starling because out-of-town residents have a different accent, says White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

At least 16 Italian towns regard Columbus as a native son, Spain, Portugal, France and Corsica also claim him.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of 1962. There are 47 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1937, France's General Confederation of Labor proclaimed a boycott of Japanese goods. The action was one of a series of national demonstrations for peace.

On this day: In 1775, Colonial troops under Benedict Arnold reached Quebec. In 1864, Gen. Sherman and his Union forces began the famed march to the sea after burning Atlanta during the Civil War.

In 1920, the first wire photographs in the United States were transmitted from the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In 1940, Nazi bombers spread destruction on the historic English city of Coventry during World War II.

In 1948, Prince Charles was born to Princess Elizabeth of England and Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

Today's birthday: Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is 66. Prime Minister Nehru of India is 73.

Thought for today: The first half of life consists of the capacity to enjoy without the chance; the last half consists of the chance without the capacity. . . . Mark Twain.

Special Willoughby School Levy Slated

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—The Willoughby-Eastlake Board of Education voted Tuesday to resubmit an additional 3.44-mill of operating levy to voters at a special election Dec. 11.

The levy was rejected by 824 votes at last Tuesday's election, when it required a simple majority for passage. A 55 per cent yes vote will be needed in the special election.

James T. Smith, board clerk, said even if the levy was approved it was not certain the money would be available next year.

South Lebanon Liquor Recount To Be Sought

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Five residents of South Lebanon who want to keep the sale of liquor legal in the community have petitioned for a recount of the local option issue in last week's election. The petition filed Tuesday seeks recount of ballots which indicated an unofficial verdict of 295 votes for legal sale of liquor and 298 against it.

Graduated Income Tax Cut Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Income tax cut promised by President Kennedy for 1963 may take effect gradually over a period of one to two years, if Congress agrees.

The Treasury has been considering for some time a gradual approach to the President's proposal to minimize the impact on the federal budget, it is understood.

Even if the step by step technique is adopted, however, the administration wants the first rate cut to become effective as of next Jan. 1.

There has been talk of lowering rates at the bottom from the present 20 per cent to 15 per cent and those at the top from the present 92 per cent to 65 per cent.

There has been speculation, too, that the 52 per cent corporate rate may be cut to 47 per cent, and that corporations be put on a quarterly pay-as-you-go basis in line with a suggestion once broached by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Ohio Reserve Unit Still in Uniform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first Ohioans called to active duty during the Cuban crisis still are in uniform.

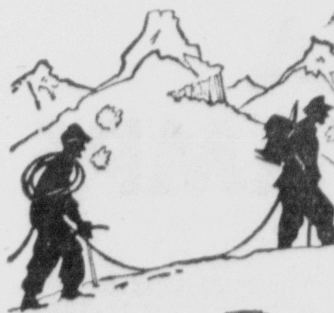

They are members of an Air Force Reserve recovery outfit with headquarters in Columbus. When they were federalized late in October, their information officer, Maj. Howard B. Taylor, said the active duty probably would be around 10 days.

But Taylor said today that it has gone beyond that "because we're still needed," and he has no idea when the men will be released. They are stationed at Port Columbus Airport.

Humidity

Q. What is the correct humidity for a home during winter months?

A. The range varies between 20 and 70 percent, depending upon individual preference. It is easier to keep the house comfortable when the relative humidity is above 40 percent.

Hope for Near Normal Life Is March of Dimes Objective

"We study the child, not the laboratory report."

When Dr. Jane Borges, director of the March of Dimes-financed Arthritis Special Treatment Center at the Home for Crippled Children in Pittsburgh, Pa., says this, she isn't trying to put the laboratories out of business.

But she is trying — and succeeding — in putting children stricken with rheumatoid arthritis back in the important business of leading nearly normal lives.

Juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, which afflicts 30,000 youngsters in the United States, is a cruel disease which comes and goes like a thief in the night. Seemingly healthy children suddenly contract high fever, swollen and aching joints, rash, anemia, and severe involvement of body organs. Many suffer deformities of the limbs. Total or partial disability often occurs.

Despite continuing research, neither the cause of juvenile rheumatoid arthritis nor the reason for its unpredictable cycle of recurrence is yet known.

What Dr. Borges and a growing number of experts in the treatment of rheumatic diseases do believe they know is how to prevent much of the permanent physical, mental and social scarring which have been agonizing by-products of this disease for so long a time.

Rejecting old theories of prolonged bed rest and virtual isolation, these innovators have introduced the rheumatoid arthritis child to programs of intensive therapy and close contact with children of the same age group. They encourage regular school attendance.

At the same time, education of the family in all aspects of the illness is begun early by the physician with diligent follow-up by the social worker.

In most cases, successful results have been achieved.

At the March of Dimes-supported center in Pittsburgh, for example, Dr. Borges last September admitted a 12-year-old girl who could not move her shoulders, elbows, or arms. She contracted rheumatoid arthritis at age six and had been in and out of hospitals since that time. When she was at home, she was rarely taken outside and saw other children only infrequently. She was painfully shy, took little interest in her studies.

Today, nearly a year later, this same girl is still confined to a wheelchair. She must attend many of her classes at the Home's branch of the Pittsburgh school system while in traction. Other complications persist.

However, daily baths in the Hubbard tank, used so successfully by polio victims, and twice-daily physical therapy have restored the use of her arms and hands. Occupational therapy — she is just now finishing a throw rug — has restored movement to her once-frozen shoulders. The challenge of competition with her schoolmates has transformed her into an excellent student.

In another case, a six-year-old girl, after four years of operations and assorted treatment, was unable to adjust to school and playmates because of intermittent pain and the childhood awareness that she was the only child with a brace.

Placed among children with similar problems, she was exposed to the physical and social therapies of Dr. Borges' program. She went back home six months later "a different child . . . obedient . . . getting along happily with brothers, sisters and playmates," according to a grateful mother.

Dr. Borges, a trim, vibrant woman, views her work at the March of Dimes-financed center and its results this way:

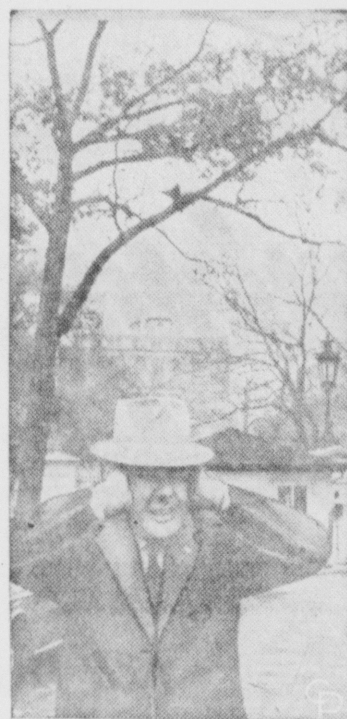

"The laboratory reports on these children, after we have worked with them for a time, are still the same. The disease is still there. But the individual is not the same person we saw in the beginning."

"By also treating the emotional and environmental problems associated with juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, not just the physical ones, we are often able to change attitudes of despair to ones of cheerfulness and hope."

A prominent Canadian physician and specialist in juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. William M. Gibson, recently described the ideal treatment setting as "an area where personnel acquainted with the problem of arthritis in children are present every time the patient is seen."

Arthritis Special Treatment Centers, supported by local chapters of The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds, are already providing this service in Pittsburgh through Dr. Borges, and through her colleagues in many other American cities.

Additional centers are planned — centers of hope where parents can read the future in their children's faces, not in the laboratory reports.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS—A Washington newsman protects his ears as a recording of a startling in distress blares from a speaker (center of bottom limb of tree at left) outside the White House. The method is being used to keep starlings away from the white walls and columns of the Executive Mansion. It was necessary to get a recorded complaint of a distressed District of Columbia starling because out-of-town hawks have a different accent, says White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

At least 16 Italian towns regard Columbus as a native son. Spain, Portugal, France and Corsica also claim him.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 14, the 318th day of 1962. There are 47 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1937, France's General Confederation of Labor proclaimed a boycott of Japanese goods. The action was one of a series of national demonstrations for peace.

On this day: In 1775, Colonial troops under Benedict Arnold reached Quebec. In 1864, Gen. Sherman and his Union forces began the famed march to the sea after burning Atlanta during the Civil War. In 1920, the first wire photographs in the United States were transmitted from the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In 1940, Nazi bombers spread destruction on the historic English city of Coventry during World War II.

In 1948, Prince Charles was born to Princess Elizabeth of England and Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

Today's birthday: Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is 66. Prime Minister Nehru of India is 73.

Special Willoughby School Levy Slated

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—The Willoughby-Eastlake Board of Education voted Tuesday to resubmit an additional 3.44-mill of operating levy to voters at a special election Dec. 11.

The levy was rejected by 824 votes at last Tuesday's election, when it required a simple majority for passage. A 55 per cent yes vote will be needed in the special election.

James T. Smith, board clerk, said even if the levy was approved it was not certain the money would be available next year.

Italy Social Security Taxes Nearly 50 Per Cent

ROME (AP) — Italy has increased its Social Security taxes to almost exactly 50 per cent of payroll, a record of sorts that has businessmen and more conservative politicians jittery.

They fear the high cost of social programs, added to the cost of constantly rising wages, will cut off the flow of foreign investment capital. There is also concern in business circles that Italian goods will be priced out of world markets.

The most recent boost in Social Security taxes—amounting to 3.75 per cent of payroll—means that for virtually every dollar earned in wages and salaries throughout Italy's booming economy the government takes in about 50 cents. This was taken away for medical care, old age pensions and the huge bureaucracy that handles it.

The taxes are applied to all salaries, no matter how large, with no cut-off point. On top of aries, however, the total tax slides from 50 down toward 40 per cent. The charges, approximately 42 per cent payable by the employer and 8 by the employee, puts Italy in an expensive social class by itself in Europe's developing Common Market.

Belgium's Social Security taxes come the closest. That country levies 27.75 per cent against salaries and 33.50 per cent against wages, with the employer paying approximately two-thirds, the employee or worker one-third. But the Belgian levies have a relatively low cut-off point, above which no taxes at all are collected.

Marshall University Planning Research

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Marshall University will seek clearance for establishment of a scientific research center to cost $6 to $8 million.

University plans for the facility will be presented this week to officials of the Area Redevelopment Administration in Washington, the Huntington Advertiser said today.

The center, which would be built on university property on U.S. 60 east of Huntington, would conduct research for the university, industries in this area of the Ohio valley, and governmental agencies.

French social charges total 20-25 per cent, Holland's 18.8 per cent and Germany's 14 per cent, variously divided between employer and employee.

These percentages compare with the United States Social Security tax of 6 1/4 per cent of payroll up to $4,800 of earnings, equally divided between employer and employee.

This heavy tax burden on employers, combined with some other rather extraordinary and mandatory pay practices, make Italy's reputation as a land of cheap labor misleading at best.

Among other practices are:

1. A cost of living allowance that goes up every time the government price index rises a point.

2. A "13th month" salary payable to all employees at the end of the year. It actually amounts to slightly more than a month's pay.

3. A "14th month" salary payable to some categories of employees at the end of June.

4. Liquidation averaging approximately one month's pay for each year of service if an employee quits, more if he is fired.

Social Security taxes are applied to all these extra payments. After adding all these things up, most businessmen figure an employee costs almost exactly twice his salary of record. On this basis the representative employee with the 100,000-lire salary costs his employer close to 200,000 lire—$320—a month.

But it will be interesting to see how he handles Congress with the presidential race coming up and the need for accomplishments intensifying.

Dolloff has said already, on basis of unofficial returns, that he will ask for a recount and the review is expected to start Monday.

The last precinct return arrived this morning, by state police messenger, and MacDonald announced these statewide totals: Reed 146,742; Dolloff 146,121.

It's possible, feeling the need for a better showing, he'll switch and get tough. But it isn't likely, if only because of the presidential race when he may feel he needs every vote from every section.

In the recent campaign he pleaded for the election of more Democrats to Congress to help him make good in the next two years on programs he couldn't make good on in the past two because his Democratic-run Congress blocked him.

It was an amazing political sight to see a President saying he needed more people from his own party in a Congress where in sheer numbers people from his own party already drowned the Republicans.

What he really was asking for was more Democrats to offset those Democrats who teamed up with Republicans to kill his programs. In this case it was mainly the Southern Democrats.

The voters gave him four more Democrats in the Senate, making the party's majority there 68-32, or better than two to one over the Republicans, although in the House the Republicans picked up two seats.

Those two seats have practically no significance in changing the already heavily conservative mood of the House since the Democrats there will outnumber the Republicans 259-176.

These small changes in the makeup of the two houses actually can be considered a Kennedy victory since the minority party in an off-year election like this traditionally makes solid gains but this year didn't.

Therefore, through this triumph over tradition, Kennedy should be expected to deliver on a number of programs, particularly since he has overwhelming numbers of Democrats to help him.

But anything so nebulous as victory over tradition melts when placed against the hot arithmetic of politics.

Despite the huge Democratic majorities in both houses, some of the programs Kennedy talked most about, like medical care, were slaughtered by a combination of conservative Democrats and Republicans.

The complexion of Congress hasn't been changed enough by the Nov. 6 elections to make the outlook for his pet programs any more optimistic.

Nevertheless, Kennedy campaigned, he won a victory over tradition and now it's up to him to perform.

If he gets slaughtered again on some of his major programs, but manages to get through a moderate amount of more or less usual legislation, he probably will say in 1964 as he did this year: It was a tremendous Congress, one of the best.

And when he runs for re-election, as he seems certain to, he will be out campaigning for even more Democrats in Congress.

AAU, NCAA OK Coalition

Kennedy Appeal Helps Form Olympic Accord

NEW YORK (AP) — The AAU and NCAA, at each other's throats for 2½ years in a bitter war of words and actions over control of amateur sports in the United States, were wedded in an uneasy coalition today.

The truce, reached Tuesday night after two days of intensive negotiations and a personal appeal from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, will hold until after the 1964 Olympics.

"But," said one high official, "We hope it will naturally evolve into something permanent."

No details were announced but The Associated Press learned that the agreement provides:

1. The NCAA-backed United States Track and Field Federation would be limited to educational institutions.

2. The AAU will remain the sanctioning agent in all international competition.

3. The coalition will rule internal open competition in the United States.

On the surface, it would appear that the AAU has fought off the NCAA challenge successfully. The AAU never has been particularly interested in college competition, and as a matter of fact, does not require collegiate meets to get its sanction.

The federation, on the other hand, had demanded sanctioning authority along with the AAU. This, the AAU maintained, was against the rules of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, the governing body of world track and field.

Neither Walt Byers, chief NCAA negotiator, nor Col. Don Huh, who headed the AAU team, would make any comment. Only a formal statement, read by United States Olympic Committee President Tug Wilson was released.

Both the NCAA and AAU must vote on the agreement.

Things had gotten to such a serious point that the NCAA was threatening to forbid college athletes to compete in AAU meets. The AAU, for its part, had warned that collegians who participated in non-sanctioned meets could be barred from the Olympics.

The agreement did not include basketball and gymnastics, two other sports that the two factions have been feuding over.

He made or assisted in nine tackles. In addition he intercepted a Stanford pass on the Trojan 47 and almost returned it for a touchdown. He was caught on the Stanford 4. When Stanford held on downs on the 1, he broke through on the first play and threw full-back Ken Babajan in the end zone for a safety.

Top Ground Gain Teams Set To Clash

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the nation's leading grind-it-out-on-the-ground teams will square off against each other at Norman, Okla., Saturday when Missouri battles Oklahoma.

Missouri has the No. 1 rushing offense, according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. The Tigers have piled up 2,301 yards on the ground in eight games. Oklahoma is sixth with 1,812. The Sooners, however, have played only seven games.

Halfback Johnny Roland of Missouri is fourth in individual rushing with 774 yards, and Oklahoma fullback Joe Don Looney isn't far behind with 707. Looney is the country's top punter with a 44.3-yard average.

Missouri is seventh in total defense and eighth in rushing defense. Oklahoma ranks No. 3 in forward pass defense.

Eldon Fortie, Brigham Young's fine tailback, continues to lead the nation in both total offense and rushing. The 167-pound senior has collected 1,944 yards in total offense and amassed 1,130 yards from rushing.

Northwestern's Tom Myers, a sophomore, tops all forward passers with 104 completions in 160 tosses for 1,403 yards and 13 touchdowns. Tulsa end John Simmons leads in pass receiving with 58 receptions for 760 yards and eight touchdowns.

Tom Krzemienksi, Michigan State football end from Beaver Falls, Pa., played prep football with Joe Namath, sophomore quarterback star at Alabama.

Wally Post was a terrific pinch hitter for Cincinnati this year. With nine hits in 27 at bats he hit .333 and drove home 12 runs. He hit three pinch home runs.

Young Hunters Need Strict Supervision

Pickaway County juvenile authorities cited a need for stricter supervision of minors during the rabbit, pheasant and quail hunting season which opens tomorrow.

During the first nine months of 1962, 14 of the 28 hunting accidents that occurred were caused by hunters 19 or under, according to Bob Strohm, division supervisor of firearms and water safety of the Ohio Department of Wildlife.

Strohm believes the real answer to the problem of gun accidents is firearms education. He noted that it is the duty of parents, teachers and sportsmen to provide training in the safe and proper handling of weapons for youth.

Ralph Starkey, Pickaway County juvenile probation officer, said that in addition to the game laws which govern the action of hunters, there are laws designed specifically for the juvenile minor.

NO PERSON under 16 shall hunt unless accompanied by his parent or other adult person over 18. All hunters, regardless of age must display a current hunting license on the back of an outer garment.

Ohio law also specifically forbids the sale of firearms, including air guns, or ammunition to persons under the age of 17.

Minors are subject to all laws and council orders as to bag limits, hunting hours and permission to hunt.

Young Hunters Need Strict Supervision

Pickaway County juvenile authorities cited a need for stricter supervision of minors during the rabbit, pheasant and quail hunting season which opens tomorrow.

During the first nine months of 1962, 14 of the 28 hunting accidents that occurred were caused by hunters 19 or under, according to Bob Strohm, division supervisor of firearms and water safety of the Ohio Department of Wildlife.

Strohm believes the real answer to the problem of gun accidents is firearms education. He noted that it is the duty of parents, teachers and sportsmen to provide training in the safe and proper handling of weapons for youth.

Ralph Starkey, Pickaway County juvenile probation officer, said that in addition to the game laws which govern the action of hunters, there are laws designed specifically for the juvenile minor.

NO PERSON under 16 shall hunt unless accompanied by his parent or other adult person over 18. All hunters, regardless of age must display a current hunting license on the back of an outer garment.

Ohio law also specifically forbids the sale of firearms, including air guns, or ammunition to persons under the age of 17.

Minors are subject to all laws and council orders as to bag limits, hunting hours and permission to hunt.

Seventy-four of 134 minor league baseball teams reported increased attendance in 1962.

Tiger Coaching Staff To Pick Cager of Week

Selection Will Be Determined by Use Of Charts, Game Films

Paul Reiss, Circleville basketball coach, announced yesterday that the cage staff will name a player or players of the week during the coming season.

Pictures of these players will appear in The Herald each week.

The player of the week award will be graded by the use of efficiency charts and movies of the home games.

The efficiency charts will make use of statistics of individual, shooting, rebounding, violations, assists, jump situations and overall play.

Approximately 60 Circleville High School boys are participating in the basketball program, according to Reiss.

Seventeen juniors and seniors are presently vying for starting positions on the varsity. 26 sophomores are competing for the reserve team and 16 are trying for starting positions on the frosh team.

Varsity hopefuls are:
Seniors — George Trego, 6-2; Dave Hannahs, 6-1; Bop Waple, 6-4; Garold Dade, 5-10; Pete DeNeef, 6-2; Clesson Thomas, 6-2; Frank Mace, 6-2; Bob Diltz, 5-11; Larry Plum, 5-8; Freddie Moore, 5-6.

Juniors — Tom Smith, 6-2; John Pharr, 5-11; Tom Tootle, 5-10; Dave Bass, 5-10; Dave Green, 5-9; Bob Purcell, 5-10; Doug Dunkel, 5-11.

Briton Seeks Middleweight Title Match

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Tarry Downes said today he's ready to fight world middleweight champion Dick Tiger after bettering Phil Moyer of Portland, Ore., into bloody defeat.

Referee Jack Hart stopped Downes' scheduled 10-round fight with Moyer after 30 seconds of the ninth round Tuesday night. Moyer was bleeding freely from cuts over both eyes and from under his chin.

Downes, at 164 a little heavier than usual, was unmarked except for a cut on the top of his head.

"I felt really good, and I'm now ready for anything," Downes said. Sam Burns, Downes' manager, said: "We'd love the Tiger fight—that's the one now."

Moyer, who weighed 165, failed to produce much of a right hand punch and appeared in trouble from the early stages. He allowed Downes to get inside and then draw him into the kind of in-fighting that is the Briton's specialty.

Moore Awaits Clay Match

Ancient One Slated For Battle Thursday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Archie Moore-Cassius Clay boxing contest is billed as "the fight of the ages," a rather logical label when the ages of the participants are considered.

The affair is also a "battle of the lips," and it might even turn out to be the heavyweight fight of the year.

Clay, the loquacious one from Louisville, is a young man of but 20.

The age of Moore, the old monogoose from San Diego, is debatable, but somewhere in the upper 40s.

One-time triple champion Henry Armstrong once swore that he and Archie were boxing around St. Louis in smokers and the like in 1930.

Archie in the record book first fought formally in 1936.

Whatever the date or Moore's age, it is certain this remarkable man was fighting for a living before Cassius Marcellus Clay was born.

They go into the Sports Arena ring Thursday night for 12 rounds or less. Booked for closed theater circuit in a number of cities—no radio—the attraction is slated to start at 8 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

Give or take a few matches, Moore, the former world light heavyweight champion, will be in his 220th ring engagement. He has won 187 and scored a record 136 knockouts.

Cassius, the 1960 Olympic Games light heavyweight champion, will make his 16th start as a professional. He has not been whipped and has scored 12 knockouts.

Moore, famed for ballooning to 200 pounds and up between matches, appears to be a svelte— for Archie — 198. He stands 5 feet-11 and has the build of a small bull in his shoulders and upper arms.

Clay is almost 6-3, weighs about 200 and, as even Archie admits, is a picture of bodily perfection.

Co-promoters George Parnasus and Cal Eaton hope to entice heavyweight champion Sonny Liston into a title fight with the winner, possibly next fall.

Catcher Jesse Gonder, who starred in Pacific Coast League baseball in 1962, struck out in three of his four appearances with Cincinnati last season.

BAMA BOUND FOR BOWL AGAIN—Ranked among the nation's top teams again this year, Alabama now sports a record of 25 straight games without defeat as Paul (Bear) Bryant leads his charges to another Bowl bid. Bama, which ranks second in the nation in defense (Mississippi is first), is led this season by a fine line and Cotton Clark, halfback, who has scored 11 touchdowns in the seven victories to date. (Central Press)

Stith Makes His Debut as Pro Cager

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's good to get back," Tom Stith said today, "but I've got to get used to playing again. That'll take some time."

Stith, former All-America basketball player at St. Bonaventure,

Davis To Remain Inactive — Brown

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns says rookie halfback Ernie Davis will not be activated in 1962.

Brown squelched any chance of the Syracuse All-America, sidelined this season by leukemia, playing this year in responding to a question Tuesday night on the coach's radio program.

Davis has been working out with the team since last month when doctors reported the disease was in a perfect state of remission, a development that is not uncommon in leukemia cases. It means there is presently no trace of the disease in his blood, but there is no assurance the disease will not recur.

where he was the national major college scoring champion as a senior, finally made his debut in the National Basketball Association on Tuesday night.

It was a return to basketball few thought possible 18 months ago when the 6-foot-5, 215-pound giant was suddenly stricken with tuberculosis only a few weeks after the New York Knicks had made him their No. 1 draft pick. The younger of the Stith brothers spent four months in a hospital recuperating, then returned to his home in the Queens section of New York to attempt a comeback.

The year's effort was climaxed, dramatically, when Coach Eddie Donovan of the Knicks sent Stith into the Knicks' line-up in the third period of the game at Madison Square Garden against the champion Boston Celtics.

Under orders to signal the bench as soon as he felt any fatigue at all, Stith played nearly six minutes in his first turn on the court. In the fourth period of the game, won by Boston 116-102 with a late rally, Stith returned for another four minutes.

In his 10 minutes Tom took four shots—all from outside—and hit hit two. He grabbed two rebounds and was credited with one assist. In the Garden opener, Oscar Robertson's 31 points triggered Cincinnati's 127-109 romp over Detroit.

Longest touchdown play in Syracuse football history was the 101-yard run made by Danny Rackiewicz against Pitt in 1959.

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, now so much a part of most people's lives that we can expect to have entertainment on tap from early morning until late at night, is composed of many ingredients. It is Lucille Ball in a kangaroo suit, spilling hot onion soup in the pouch.

It is the face of a defeated politician, haggard and tired-eyed, in a bitter valedictory to public life. It is an instructor in front of a blackboard teaching thousands in their living rooms the Russian alphabet.

It is Gen. Lauris Norstad, gesturing and groping for the precise words, explaining the workings of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It is the President of the United States, spelling out coolly and carefully, a clear and present danger to the nation.

It is a colorful portrait of the River Nile, from its beginnings as a clear mountain stream until it joins the Mediterranean.

It is Cary Grant making love to Katharine Hepburn in "Holiday," a 1938 motion picture.

It is an electronic scoreboard rolling vote totals in place as David Brinkley nervously twiddles his thumbs.

It is Eliot Ness confronting a wrong-doer and Grandma Clamptett taking a rifle shot at a mink jacket.

Television is many things, and it is many different things to every person. Because it is so many things, how can anybody possibly say that "television" now is better or worse, or less interesting or exciting than in other seasons. What each of us thinks about television depends, almost entirely, upon the programs we watch — and don't watch.

Recommended tonight: Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11 (EST)—Darren McGavin in a comedy, "Marriage Marks the Spot", with singer Julius LaRosa making his dramatic debut.

Wagman Admits $10,000 in Fixes

NEW YORK (AP)—Aaron Wagman has admitted he made approximately $10,000 fixing college basketball games during the seasons of 1959-60 and 1960-61.

Wagman so testified Tuesday during the trial of Jack Molinas while being cross-examined by Jacob Evseroff, Molinas' attorney. It was the fifth day Wagman had appeared on the witness stand.

However, Wagman added: "I didn't come out ahead in any year. I gambled away what I made."

Molinas is charged with bribing Billy Reed of Bowling Green, Ohio, to fix three games in 1959 and 1960; with conspiracy in attempting to fix 25 college games and with subordination of perjury.

Capital's Famed Chapel Choir Due at Teays Valley Nov. 28

The Chapel Choir of Capital University, an internationally famous group, will present a concert 8 p. m. Nov. 28, in the Teays Valley High School Auditorium.

Appearance of the choir is sponsored by the First English Lutheran Church Women. Eighty-one selected voices comprise the group conducted by Dr. Ellis Snyder, a native of Ashville. No admission will be charged but a free-will offering will be taken.

The choir's reputation has become international in scope through an emphasis on sacred music. During the past summer the choir extended its fame to Europe, singing well received concerts in England, Holland, France, Switzerland and Germany.

On July 5, it became the first choir from the free world to sing in East Berlin on the communist side of the Berlin Wall, since the wall's erection on Aug. 13, 1961.

Thirty-four years ago, Dr. Snyder, one of the leading artist singers, teachers, and choir conductors of Columbus, heard several concerts of great "a cappella" music. These experiences planted a seed, which after years of growth, bore fruit in the formation of the nationally famous Chapel Choir.

At first, 35 of the leading singers of Capital University were assembled for several rehearsals a week. From this small beginning was developed the Chapel Choir, founded, trained, and at present singing in the finest tradition of the "a cappella" school.

Dr. Snyder's interest in church music has been extended to other groups also. As a result of the excellent performance of the Chapel Choir at the Los Angeles meeting of the National Federation of Music Clubs, he was invited to serve as National Chairman of Church Music, which he did for six years.

As the years passed, the reputation of this director and his choir grew to great proportions, and in 1954 at the St. Olaf Fine Arts Festival, Dr. Snyder was presented with the degree of Doctor of Music.

General Senior Scholarship Tests Set for Friday

Pickaway County superintendent of schools George McDowell announced today that the general scholarship tests for seniors will be given at Circleville High School beginning 8:45 a. m. Friday.

The test, open to all seniors in the county, will cover five areas—English, English usage, history, mathematics and science.

Members of the committee conducting the test are McDowell, Richard Snouffer, principal of Circleville High School; Benis Lutz, principal of Teays Valley High School; Robert Seward, general supervisor of the county board of education.

The agriculture scholarship tests will be given at 1 p. m. Friday.

College Night Set Nov. 29 at Teays Valley

All Pickaway County High School students and parents have been invited to attend "College Night" 8 p. m. Nov. 29 at the Teays Valley High School Auditorium.

Special representatives will be on hand to give advice to students in selecting a college of their choice.

Represented will be a well known college, a technical school, the Nationwide Beauty Academy, business college, Mrs. Hazel Hurlbert, Director of Nurses, from Riverside-Methodist Hospital; and a barber college.

This is the first phase of a program planned to benefit both students and the parents in making preparations for future education.

Guard at Pen Accused of Peddling Dope

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Penitentiary guard has been charged with conveying stimulating drugs into the prison.

Guard Charles H. Looker, 52, of Columbus was expected to be arraigned today on the charges brought by the Highway Patrol.

The patrol and penitentiary officials are co-operating in an investigation to determine just how much traffic in stimulants is involved in the case.

State Correction Commissioner Maury Koblentz, however, said he believed Looker was caught before the operation had been going on long.

Koblentz said a quantity of the stimulant Dexadrine was found in the penitentiary about 10 days ago. Last week, Looker, whose post is the prison hospital, was searched after Dexadrine purchases in Columbus were traced to him, and 100 grams of the stimulant were found in his possession, Koblentz said.

Since then, Koblentz said, Looker has admitted he was bringing the drug to a prisoner who paid him for it. The guard said the prisoner told him the drug was harmless and that he planned to use it in "photography work."

TV Sponsor Raps Censors

2 Ohio Stations Plan Nixon Show Replay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The sponsor of the controversial television program, "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon," says attempts to censor the show are "opposed to American free speech."

Meanwhile, Taft Broadcasting Corp. of Cincinnati has scheduled a re-broadcast of the program on its two stations, Its Columbus Channel 6 outlet will carry the show at 6:30 tonight. Its Channel 12 Cincinnati outlet will carry the program at 6:30 Friday.

In Columbus, Murray D. Lincoln, president of Nationwide Insurance, sponsor of the show, said: "At the time Nationwide contracted with ABC to sponsor the Howard K. Smith Show, it was agreed that this company would not attempt to censor his weekly shows or in any way interfere with their content. I made the following statement last January which was distributed to Nationwide personnel:

"It may be that Mr. Smith's analyses and interpretations will not please everyone... It may be that Nationwide people will not always see eye to eye with the man they are sponsoring. Nevertheless, we will make no attempt to censor Mr. Smith."

"We do, however, join Mr. Hagerty, vice president, news and public affairs for ABC, in deploing the fact that some of our program before they had seen it. We are even more disturbed by the action of those station owners who canceled the program not only before they had seen the show, but before they had even seen a script of it... Certainly, considering the enormous power and influence of TV, such action is opposed to the classic American principle of free speech."

Rotarians To Hear Rev. Walters Talk

The Rev. Henry Walters of the Presbyterian Church will be guest speaker at Thursday's regular Rotary Club luncheon meeting.

Rev. Walters will base his talk on "Thanksgiving." He will be heard at Rotary's regular meeting place, the BPO Elks Home.

George Foresman is in charge of the weekly program.

Boosters Air Banquet Events; Carry-In Grid Fete Planned

Banquets, awarding of trophies, the hearing of requests for financial aid, other money matters and a possible merger with the Women's Auxiliary were items which dotted a heavy agenda at last night's Circleville Booster Club meeting.

A lengthy debate was brought to a close when it was decided that a carry-in banquet will be conducted for the South Central League champion football team. Earlier plans had called for an all-sports fete at the end of the year, but the championship effort by the grid squad threw a different light on the move.

The Booster officers and directors agreed that the football team does deserve special recognition. Time and place will be announced by a committee designed by President John Jenkins.

Jaycees To Meet

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a general membership meeting at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the club rooms, Jack Alkire, president, announced today.

A suggestion that a most valuable player trophy be awarded in each CHS sport also drew considerable discussion. It was agreed that the awards will be made, providing the various coaches give approval. A committee was named to contact the head mentor in each sport.

SEVERAL of the Booster directors voiced a favorable opinion toward combining the club with the Women's Booster Auxiliary. A committee will meet with the Auxiliary for a further discussion of the proposal.

A request by cage coach Paul Reiss for aid in filming basketball games this season was tabled for further study. Indications are that the CHS Athletic Assn. and the Stodge Club would also aid the project.

The club also agreed to pay ticket cost to send the CHS cage team to see an Ohio State basketball game this season.

In other business, the club approved a motion to transfer a sum of money to the Women's Auxiliary for help provided at the football fish fry this season. The amount will be determined after a final count is obtained on proceeds taken in at the event.

Football coach Carl Benhase

submitted a request asking the club to help finance a new film producer and a project that would produce a special sound film strip on highlights of the past grid season. A committee was appointed to make a further study of the request.

Last night's meeting was climaxed with a co-ch Benhase showing films on the Franklin Heights and Washington C. H. games.

All Pickaway County High School students and parents have been invited to attend "College Night" 8 p. m. Nov. 29 at the new Teays Valley High School Auditorium.

Special representatives will be on hand to give advice to students in selecting a college of their choice.

Represented will be a well known college, a technical school, the Nationwide Beauty Academy, business college, Mrs. Hazel Hurlbert, Director's of Nurses, from Riverside-Methodist Hospital; and a barber college.

This is the first phase of a program planned to benefit both students and the parents in making preparations for future education.

Guard at Pen Accused of Peddling Dope

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Penitentiary guard has been charged with conveying stimulating drugs into the prison.

Guard Charles H. Looker, 52, of Columbus was expected to be arraigned today on the charges brought by the Highway Patrol.

The patrol and penitentiary officials are co-operating in an investigation to determine just how much traffic in stimulants is involved in the case.

State Correction Commissioner Maury Koblenz, however, said he believed Looker was caught before the operation had been going on long.

Koblenz said a quantity of the stimulant Dexadrine was found in the penitentiary about 10 days ago. Last week, Looker, whose post is the prison hospital, was searched after Dexadrine purchases in Columbus were traced to him, and 100 grams of the stimulant were found in his possession, Koblenz said.

Since, then, Koblenz said, Looker has admitted he was bringing the drug to a prisoner who paid him for it. The guard said the prisoner told him the drug was harmless and that he planned to use it in "photography work."
